Going Forward Into the Past: A Genealogical Celebration

The second (and last) DGS Lecture for the year 2003-2004 will occur on 7 February 2004 at an exciting new venue – the Eisemann Center in Richardson. This facility is magnificent and a wonderful place to host our lecture by featured speaker Henry Z “Hank” Jones, Jr. He is the author of the well-known Psychic Roots series, as well as the Palatine Families series, and he is a very popular speaker on the genealogical circuit. Comments from previous presentations include - “I was spellbound: absolutely caught up in the moment”... “Keen insight into research, methodology, and the rewards of persistence!”... “lots of great information”... “an enthralling speaker.”

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

We've had a busy October in the Society. Besides our regular meetings we went to Salt Lake City for "grass roots" research and enjoyed Lloyd's lecture on Texas genealogy.

Those of us that went to Salt Lake had a great time. Read more about our 'finds' on pages 294-97. We've already set the dates for next year as 17-24 October 2004. Reservations for next year are already open. We're going to be doing the reservations a little differently this year. See the webpage for more details.

Lloyd, as always, was a real crowd pleaser. We are so fortunate to have his vast treasure trove of knowledge available to us.

Our next DGS Lecture is 7 February 2004 with Henry Z. 'Hank' Jones, Jr. at the Eisemann Center in Richardson. See pages 291 and 303 for more information

October's General Meeting featured Pat Hatcher speaking on ways of finding your 'missing' ancestors in the census, and we had a large turn out with over 90 people. We haven't had that kind of attendance in quite some time!

The Computer Interest Group has consistently had over 50 people in attendance for several meetings. Did you know that for both of these meetings you can park in the library parking lot and pay only $2? You can come early and do research all day, attend the meeting, and still pay only $2 for parking! It's a great way of getting some of that library research done on a regular basis.

We're having another coveted Library Lock-in on 17 January 2004. See page 298 for a registration form, go to the web site, or just attach a note to your check for $25 and send it to the DGS Lock-in, PO Box 12446, Dallas, TX 75225-0446.

I hope to see you at some, if not all, our events in the future.

Looking Ahead at our Society

As time goes marching by many things change; and the same is true with DGS. The Society has been around for almost 50 years and has undergone name, policy, procedure, and by-law changes. We have several new things in the works which we want our members to know about:

- Membership management computer software changes are in process.
 - The dues notices will be formatted differently over the next few months.
 - We will be able to tap into all of our wonderful resources for people who volunteered to participate in the functions of the Society. We will be corresponding with you shortly!
- Web site updates and revisions are coming along nicely. If you use the web site, we are going to try some new features that we hope to have in place by the end of the year. 1) We're going to be adding more cemetery records, with pictures. 2) The online event registration forms will, hopefully, be able to be completed via your computer before you print them out. 3) The search engine should work better.
- We will be bringing back the surname database on a secured computer link system. It WILL require a user name and password to be accessed. This may take a while to get in place because of the security issues, but it is coming.
- There are inconsistencies and conflicting sections in the current Society By-Laws so there is a committee reviewing and making recommendations for updates. Hopefully we will have them ready for the Society to review and vote on in Spring 2004.
- An operations manual is being created by Board members, committees and volunteers to outline their work flow. It will be compiled and scrutinized to be as complete as possible to aid in the smooth running our great organization. It is a document that this Board is dedicated to producing by the end of its term.

Welcome To Our New Members

Susan B. Abramson, Margaret R. Garner,
Phillip Jones, Jr., Marilyn Mask,
Ted Munger, and Caroleen Penney

Hats Off!

We couldn't have done it without you...Many thanks to the DGS members who substituted on the Volunteer Desk last summer.

It takes a lot of organization and dedication to bring one of our DGS Lectures to you and we want to recognize the following for making Lloyd de Witt Bockstruck's Texas lecture a success!

Happenings Around
DPL's 8th Floor Volunteer Desk

Susan Morris came through her surgery and is recovering nicely. She is already back in the Volunteer Coordinator saddle! She wanted to thank everybody for keeping her in their thoughts.

Susan also has three weekly openings for volunteers to fill to assist on the eighth floor:

- Monday mornings = 11:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.
- Monday afternoons = 3:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m.
- Thursday nights = 7:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

The "perks" are a free library parking pass for the underground lot, working with great Genealogy Department staff, answering questions and helping others with their research and maybe even sneaking in a little of your own family research.

Contact Susan Morris @ 214-942-4051.

Speaker: Pat Biczynski

Topic: Researching in Ireland: The Good, The Bad and The Utterly Unexpected.

Millions in the U.S. claim Irish ancestry and many want to go to the Old Country to seek their home place, but don't know where to start. Let Pat's first-person account of an (ultimately) successful hunt for living relatives and dead ancestors help you avoid her trials and errors. Learn to navigate the maze of administrative and ecclesiastical land divisions, because it all comes down to one question: What parish did they come from?

Religion isn't the only difference between the Irish and the Scots-Irish - availability of records favors the latter.

GENERAL DGS NEWS

Pat's "What's in a name?" session will help you pinpoint the physical origins of your ancestors and their ultimate ancestry from successive waves of invaders. A massive fire in 1922 destroyed most census records. How and where to find surviving resources, and what it costs in time and money is a topic, as well as what to bring along for your Irish adventure.

There are lots of surprises - including the belief that we speak the same language!

Speaker: Lloyd de Witt Bockstruck, FNGS

Topic: "Income Tax of the Civil War Years"

Lloyd is digging deep for this presentation on government documents during the Civil War years.

- Income Tax
- Voter Registration for 1867
- Sundry other little-known Civil War Records

You won't want to miss this cache of resources!

February 23

Speaker: Rodney Lane Krajca

Topic: "Fort Worth NARA & More?"

Rod is an Archivist (since 1995) at the Fort Worth NARA (National Archives and Records Administration, Southwest region) and is coming to share some of his knowledge on the resources available to us in our own backyard.

Rod has spoken at several genealogical and historical societies on topics that include; the Federal population census, repatriation oaths, immigration & naturalization records, Indian records, district court records and NARA.

He is a Juris Doctor of Law, (Baylor University School of Law - 1994) and has

- presented papers at several professional organizational meetings,
- prepared "finding" aids to the records of the National Labor Relations Board, Quartermaster General, United States District Courts, Bureau of Indian Affairs, U.S. Customs Service, Community Services Administration and Soil Conservation,
- appraised case files from the U.S. Attorneys offices and federal courts, and
- published National Archives microfilm publication M1657, Records of Naval Districts and Shore Establishments, "The Disappearance of Flight 19", 1945, (2002)

We are extremely pleased to have him join DGS for an informative lecture on the research treasures of our nearby NARA facility.

Computer Interest Group (CIG) Meets on the First Tuesday

OUR PURPOSE: Explore the use and expand our knowledge of computer technology as we search, collect, manage, and publish information related to genealogy.

We have really been "truckin'" technologically speaking – our average attendance is 60+ genealogists and that means we are covering informative topics by great speakers and answering those puzzling questions. Hope you can join us soon too!

You do not need to be a computer guru to attend, Enjoy, and learn from fellow genealogists.

December 2

Speaker: John Wylie

Topic: "Migration with a Technology Twist"

Knowing why your ancestor migrated will help you learn what route he/she followed. Using examples, this lecture outlines and demonstrates the value of understanding the fundamental motives for migration, immigration, and emigration. He will also address the laws, economics, and customs for people moving from one place to another, plus where to find sources.

January 6

Speaker: Bill Dow

Topic: "Second Site and other Software for Publishing Your Genealogy on the Web".

If you are serious about publishing your TMG data on the Web, or if you are sharing your data with family members on custom CDs, you need Second Site! Second Site creates web pages from a genealogy database. It generates either narrative or grid style person pages, a master index, a surname index, and source pages. Second Site is also a great tool to review your dataset.

February 3

Speaker: Patricia Law Hatcher, CG, FASG,

Topic: "Tables, Charts and Spreadsheets"

Perhaps you will get an idea of how you might plot out that jumble of information on your lineage and logically make deductions that you can pursue through more research.

African American
Genealogy Interest Group (AAGIG)
Meets on the Third Tuesday

The DGS/AAGIG promotes the study of Black genealogy and provides information through educational programs on tracing African-American roots. Reserve these dates on your Winter calendar:

DGS LECTURE SERIES

7 February 2004

Henry Z "Hank" Jones Jr. FASG

Going Forward Into the Past: A Genealogical Celebration

Hank, a professional genealogist since 1965, has been elected a Fellow of the American Society of Genealogists (membership limited to 50 worldwide). He is a Charter member and former Director of The Genealogical Speakers' Guild, the author of seven (7) books including Psychic Roots and the Palatine Families series. He had a 25-year acting career in motion pictures and television, including eight (8) Walt Disney movies and numerous other films and network TV programs.

Lecture Topics:

- When the Sources are Wrong!
- Tracing the Origins of Early 18th Century Palatine Emigrants
- Family Traditions: How to Separate Fact from Fiction in Genealogical Research
- How Psychic Roots became an "Unsolved Mystery!"

This is a wonderful opportunity to enjoy an event in the exciting new Charles W. Eisemann Center in Richardson, Texas. We promise you will enjoy the elegant setting and ambiance.

The Eisemann Center is just off Central Expressway (I-75) between Campbell and Renner Roads at 2351 Performance Drive, and next to the Renaissance Hotel. See their website at www.eisemanncenter.com.

Garage parking will be available at reduced rates of $4.00, but you are encouraged to take the DART Red Line to the Galatyn Park Station, adjacent to the Renaissance Hotel and the Eisemann Center.

For lunch: Choose to visit a restaurant in the immediate area, bring your own "brown bag" lunch or pre-order a box lunch prepared by the Appe-Teaser Catering Company. These were delicious at our previous lecture! Use the registration form to pre-order a lunch, as no extras will be available at the event.

(see registration form on page 303)

Christmas Gift Ideas?

DGS Lapel Pins, gold on white 1" diameter. $5.00 plus shipping, or available on DPL's 8th Floor and at DGS events.

The popular DGS badge holder is available in red, royal blue, and black. They are $5.00 plus shipping, or available on the 8th Floor of DPL and at DGS events.

And don't forget our DGS Gift Certificates, can be made up for any value, $5.00 on up. These certificates are redeemable towards DGS sponsored functions and sales items – see our catalogue or booth at DGS events. The Collier Diary Project

by Albert Parker "Al" Weeks

Perhaps one of your own cousins or ancestors left a diary of past events which could be developed into a useful genealogical reference book. Consider the possibilities.

On August 20, 1916, Rev. L. Clay COLLIER noted in his diary that he traveled "to Italy to preach funeral of Bro. Ed Lloyd at 3 p.m.," then had "dinner with J.M. Parker." From my own and other's genealogical research, I know quite a bit about Rev. COLLIER, as well as J. M. (Jesse Matthew) PARKER and Jesse's wife, Roxanna Maria "Roxie" WHITE. Roxie was a younger half-sister to Rev. COLLIER's wife, Sara Jane "Jennie" WHITE, hence the frequent mention of the PARKERS in Rev. COLLIER's diary. I suspect that "Bro. Ed Lloyd" was a distant cousin of this Jesse M. PARKER, but that deserves more research. That Sunday "dinner with J.M. Parker" was most likely at the PARKER home in Italy, Ellis Co., Texas, where I often visited and played as a youngster. I especially enjoyed the attic which was full of "treasures". That PARKER house was built by Jesse PARKER ca. 1891 and remained in the family until 1972. This house is still standing today on S. Ward Street in Italy, and in very good condition.

As a Presbyterian minister in North Texas, ca. 1880 through 1949, Rev. Lycurgus Clay COLLIER kept an extremely detailed dairy of his daily activities: where he traveled, with whom he met, dined, or stayed overnight, the floods and storms that affected so many of the residents of North Texas and elsewhere, the bride and groom (perhaps even some of the attendees) at a wedding where he officiated, a child's birth, a death, a funeral, various national and worldly events such as a presidential election or the 1918 truce with Germany, and several mentions of Trinity University in Waxahachie (later San Antonio, Texas).

This extensive diary is a veritable treasure trove of genealogical data about some of the early 20th century North Texas residents. The COLLIER Dairy covers 1910 through 1943, but we suspect there is an earlier diary, yet to be discovered, perhaps covering about 1870 through 1909.

In the COLLIER Diary, the June 14, 1911, entry includes "To Italy to marry Beatrice Moore. Dinner with J. F. Park [not Parker, but perhaps yet another cousin]. Wedding at 8:30. E. C. Jones to Beatrice Moore. Night with Parker." This carefully dated statement by the presiding minister serves as a good genealogical source for the wedding data. The Ellis Co. Courthouse likely has a corresponding marriage record, although I have yet to investigate.

As I recall, J. F. PARK lived just across the street from J. M. PARKER in Italy, Texas, and had a wife named Ida that was referenced as "Aunt Ida" by J. M. PARKER's eldest son, Herman Collier PARKER, my mother's father. When I was very young I recall sitting on the front porch of the PARK home in Italy talking with a very elderly Aunt Ida not long before she died. Again, research is needed to clearly identify Frank and Ida PARK and the relationship with the COLLIERs, WHITEs, and PARKERs.

Incidentally, Herman C. PARKER's middle name, Collier, was definitely chosen to show great respect for Rev. L. Clay COLLIER who presided at the wedding of Herman's parents, Roxie WHITE and Jesse M. PARKER, in Itasca, Hill Co. Texas, 22 December 1889.

In the COLLIER Diary, the June 12, 1915 entry includes "To Italy to conduct funeral of Mrs. Will Smith nee Miss Dodson. Night with Parker. Supper with Sallie." What a genealogical find here -- a maiden name of DODSON. I do not yet have any other data on this SMITH Family. "Sallie" is mentioned often elsewhere in the diary. More research is needed to correctly identify Sallie, likely a relative of Rev. COLLIER or his wife.

The December 28, 1917 entry includes "Went to Waxahachie this a.m. ... To Italy p.m. Supper with Alice. Night with Sallie." The December 29 entry includes "Dinner with Uncle Frank and Ida Park. ... Supper with Parker's. Roxie has grippe." Aha! Note the reference to "Uncle Frank", probably the same as the earlier referenced "J. F. Park", and perhaps a reasonable explanation as to why my grandfather, Herman C. PARKER, used the name "Aunt Ida". Again, a direction for more research.

The May 3, 1922 entry includes "To Dallas to State Sunday School Convention. Night with Herman Parker." At this time, I believe Herman Collier PARKER was living in Oak Cliff (Dallas) with his wife and young daughter, my mother. Note to self - Check city directory. More research needed.

It is very clear that the content of the COLLIER Diary deserves considerable work to enhance its genealogical value and its availability for researchers.

A great-granddaughter of Rev. COLLIER in Fort Worth, and a cousin of mine via a different common ancestor*, has the original COLLIER Diary. She has just finished the laborious transcription of the diary contents into a digital form, some 247 rather full pages. Wow! What a genealogical treasure trove. She, several other cousins, and I are now reviewing and editing this transcription. We know that we need to significantly enhance the genealogical content of the diary in preparation of what we hope will become a very useful genealogical reference document, likely to be published as a book.

Although our plans change a bit as we (the "diary working group") progress through and better understand the nature of the considerable detail in the diary, we believe that we can identify in detail almost all of the persons and places referenced in the diary. We believe that we can greatly enhance the genealogical content of the diary with extractions from our own genealogical research, supplemented by considerable directed research as we progress through the events recorded in the diary. And, of course, there must be a comprehensive index of persons and places, hopefully more complete and useful than the minimal index one typically finds.

At this point we know that we have an enormous project, essentially a "tiger by the tail." But we firmly believe that we can produce a publication of value for genealogical researchers.

*Rev. Robert Macklin WHITE, Jr. (1840 Johnson Co. MO – 1906 Ellis Co. Texas), also a Presbyterian minister, was the father-in-law of Rev. Lycurgus Clay COLLIER (1850 Morgan Co. MO – 1949 Tarrant Co. Texas), and is the common ancestor for each member of this working group of cousins now dissecting and enhancing the COLLIER Diary. More research might reveal that Rev. WHITE was the officiating minister for the WHITE-COLLIER wedding in 1889 in Ovilla, Ellis Co. Texas.

PENNSYLVANIA RESEARCHERS' CORNER

INDEX TO PENNSYLVANIA'S COLONIAL RECORDS SERIES

The first 16 volumes of the Pennsylvania Archives, forming a distinct series known as Colonial Records, are a treasure trove and form one of the cornerstones of early American record sources. Aware of the unfulfilled potential of the Colonial Records, Dr. Mary Dunn of Uniontown, Pennsylvania compiled her own manuscript indexes to the series. We are pleased to offer Dr. Dunn's INDEX to the 16 volumes of Pennsylvania's Colonial Records, naming some 50,000 men and women who played a role in the early history of Pennsylvania.

EARLY LUTHERAN BAPTISMS AND MARRIAGES IN SOUTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

One of the first clergymen to serve the early Pennsylvania-German settlers, John Casper Stoever, maintained a ministry in southeastern Pennsylvania for 50 years, during which time he kept a record of the baptisms and marriages he performed in his missionary travels. Stoever's journal is reprinted here, complete with an index so sadly lacking in the original.

PENNSYLVANIA GERMAN IMMIGRANTS, 1709-1786

The lists making up this remarkable work try to identify German emigrants in their homeland and in Pennsylvania. Emigrants are cited with references to manumission records, parish registers, passports, and other papers of German and Swiss provenance. They are noted again, where possible, with reference to an equivalent range of Pennsylvania source materials, notably church records, wills, and tax lists of settlement in southeastern Pennsylvania.

PENNSYLVANIA MARRIAGES PRIOR TO 1790

This work features a base list of 6,500 marriages, to which have been added a further 3,500 marriages from articles in "The Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography" and "The Pennsylvania Genealogical Magazine." All 10,000 marriages are based on public records as opposed to church records.

THE PROVINCIAL COUNCILORS OF PENNSYLVANIA

This work belongs in every American genealogy library because it covers many of the leading families of the mid-Atlantic region and includes the entire progeny of the councilors -- including daughters of daughters of daughters, sons of sons of sons, cadet branches who moved west, and English, French, German, and other foreign descendants.

Week-long Hunt Yields a Variety of Treasures

Cousins and other assorted people have asked me why they should go to the Family History Library in Salt Lake City to do family history research.

Until this October, when I went for the first time, I didn't really know. Now I do.

Our DGS group of 18 arrived on or before Oct. 5, and departed for home Oct. 12. This meant six full days and several nights until 9:00 p.m. in the library.

The reasons we went and will go again?

- You can look at records from virtually every county in the United States without traveling to each county. You can read—and copy—new books, old books, out-of-print books.
- You walk into the U.S./Canada microfilm room and feel as though you're in a bank vault. The cabinets have got to be eight feet high and they go on forever. The first bank of cabinets goes from no. 1 to no. 171,000.

Yes, you can order most of these through the Genealogy Section of the J. Erik Jonsson Central Library or any other local Family History Center. "However," points out Betty Jean Steinke, "sometimes you can't tell from the catalog which roll you need. So you order a roll and wait two weeks, and it's the wrong roll. So you return it and order another roll and wait two more weeks. If you're there, you just go put it back in the drawer and pick up another one."

Another advantage is that on the International Floor, you can usually find a staff member who is an expert on the country and can translate the language. Betty Jean worked on Swedish and German records. Cathy Fleming worked on Norwegian records.

If the FHL has it, you can find it because the library is indexed to a fare-thee-well. I was searching for my elusive southern Bannisters. In the catalog, I found a reference to Bannister in a microfiche index to a book. I looked at the fiche. Bannister (no first name) would be on page 291.

Needless to say, I went back to the catalog to find the book. It was a very old book on microfilm. Sure enough, there he was on page 291 near the bottom of the page: So-and-so "was killed by a man named Bannister who made his escape and was never heard from again."

That proves he's one of mine—but don't you love the quality of the indexing?

Shirley Sloat was the trip coordinator and "mother hen" for the group, which included Charles and Donna Bohannon, Emily Ouren, Liz Thurmond, Shirley and Ann Williams, all of Dallas; Cathy Fleming, The Colony; Jeanne Branom, Commerce; Tresa Tatyrek, Flower Mound; Doris Aubel and Betty Jean, Garland; Betty Fritts, Hunt; Idonna Coffelt, Kerrville; Lana Filgo, Lancaster; Cindy Stamps, Richardson; Barbara and Paul Rimmer, Rockwall; and Linda McCormick, Sherman. All Texans!

On Oct. 10, Shirley and Tresa, president of the DGS, presented the FHL with a copy of Shirley's book Dallas County Records of Interest to the Genealogist at the J. Erik Jonsson Central Library, Dallas Public Library System.

Some of Our Findings:

- Betty Fritts found a Revolutionary War ancestor's will with all his family information.
- Using the library's new technology, Lana scanned the microfilm of a 1,000-page out-of-print book onto a CD ($1.50 each). This library is the only repository she knows of that owns the book.
- Emily was less ambitious but copied a book called A McFadden Chronology 1710-1900. This chronology, which followed the McFadden family from Chester District, S.C., to Lamar Co., Texas, gave Emily clues to the identity of the father of her half-Indian grandmother.
- Doing research for a friend, Jeanne found two wills, three marriages, and two family histories. (Jeanne is our prolific writer who has never used a computer and doesn't intend to start now.)
- Tresa found her Lewis line in land patent and plat books for Washington Co., Ark., including a "for love and affection" deed to a daughter and son-in-law.
- For her husband Mitch's family, she found a 1792 Spanish land record in Louisiana and marriage records with the signatures of many of his ancestors.
- Paul, who is new to genealogy, found his father, his grandfather and several cousins in the World War I draft cards. It was exciting for him to see all these people at the same place and time.
- Paul also enjoyed making five-cent copies. Yes, paper copies. Copies from microfilm to paper are 23 cents and from microfilm to CD are free. But you have to buy the CD for $1.50.

- Barbara found Illinois land records indicating that her ancestors had a lot more land than she thought.
- Cindy found several cousins at the library.

There happened to be groups from Austin and from College Station in Salt Lake City the same week we were.

One day I wore my Melugin reunion T-shirt, and a woman in the coffee shop accosted me, pronouncing Melugin (me LOO jin) correctly! She had grown up near Melugin's Grove, Ill., and took my card for a friend in Wisconsin who's researching Melugins. (That could turn out to be my biggest find.)

Some finds weren't exactly genealogical. Several people commented on how congenial the group was. "Every single member of the group added something great to the total experience," says Shirley. "And we laughed a lot."

Everyone was warned to bring an extra pair of glasses for back-up. And, of course, you needed to clean your glasses frequently. Cindy got the award for most creative method—just leave your glasses on your tray at the staff cafeteria. By the time you get outside and remember them, the glasses will have gone through the wash cycle. And by the time you find and get permission from the Catering Office to go into the kitchen, they'll be rinsed and almost dry!

When you're doing so much reading, your lives center around glasses. Tresa made the serendipitous discovery that sun glasses work as well as the famous yellow plastic sheets for reading faint microfilm. This is a real discovery because we can't get the yellow sheets anymore.

On our last Sunday, some went to hear the Mormon Tabernacle Choir tape their weekly broadcast. What a gift that was! "Climb Every Mountain" made Shirley think of the mountains her ancestors "had to climb to survive, let alone to improve their conditions." She left energized to continue her own climb.

I have always been struck by the partings of my ancestors and how many of our ancestors left family knowing that they would never see parents or children again. "Danny Boy" sung a cappella was exquisite and recalled the pain when children left the old country. And the choir's sign off of "God Be with You Till We Meet Again" struck another chord with me as I wondered how many times our families had uttered this sentiment. What an appropriate good-bye to family searching!

Resolutions for next year

1. I will not go back to Salt Lake City without a rolling briefcase.
2. I will take at least five major problems to work on so that I can shift gears when I get frustrated.
3. I will take every family line with me if I can do this and roll my bag onto the plane.
4. I will not take my laptop computer because there is not enough room for it at the microfilm readers, and I worry too much about its getting stolen.
5. I will not take my information in my usual loose leaf notebooks because there is not enough room for them at the readers. This makes them so much dead weight.
6. I will not take enough supplies to set up an office in my hotel room.
7. I will take only loose-fitting clothes for those long days of sitting. Also I will not take a different outfit for every day because I will wind up wearing just the two or three that are most comfortable.
8. I will take an empty bag for carrying photo copies home.
9. On my first day I will search the family history books because I'm almost assured of a success there. I found a new book on my Mahurin line that had me listed in it! It also took me two generations further back, making seven generations of Mahurins.

Please clip and save this for next year because none of us will remember it then. The Salt Lake City trip will be October 17-24, 2004.

Most Texas libraries have access to the TexShare databases. Heritage Quest's census records and genealogical books are available through the project of the Texas State Libraries. They have indexed census records for 1910 as well as, 1870 and prior years. 1920 is currently in the works.

In September,

I submitted last year's editions of the DGS Newsletter to the Texas State Genealogical Society to be entered into their TSGS Writing Awards 2003, Books & Periodicals division.

We received a call in early November that we had received recognition. A local genealogist, who was attending the TSGS Conference in Austin, 8-10 November 2003, accepted the award on our behalf at the Friday night dinner.

Our DGS publication received the Distinguished Award accompanied by a $25.00 check. We have a great team of writers and editors that make this possible nine times a year – a big thank you to all of them that get the news to you!

Respectfully submitted, Marti Fox, DGS Editor

A mystery guest submitted the Dallas Journal and it was also recognized and included a $25.00 award to DGS.

Copy Cards Only!

Did you know that DPL's Eighth Floor has gone to plastic Copy Cards? No longer can you put coins in the machine. Not to worry, the cards are for sale from the Eighth Floor and all Information Desks.

Who?... Me?... No Way!

As rewarding as genealogy is, it can become an all-consuming passion. One can easily become so deeply engrossed in genealogy that all else dissolves into insignificance. It has been well documented that many genealogists forget to eat, sleep, or both.

The warning signs are clear and unmistakable. You are too involved with genealogy and need to get a life (or at least visit Betty Ford's clinic) if:

- All the furniture in your house has been replaced with file cabinets
- You own a complete set of the US Census on microfilm
- You'd rather redo the research than look for the answer in your notes
- When you have trouble falling asleep, you form soundex codes instead of counting sheep
- You brake for cemeteries
- You can give documented answers to all the queries in Ansearchin News for the past 5 years
- You can name all 64 of your great-great-great-great grandparents, but cannot remember the names of your grandchildren
- You have a computer dedicated to each of the 43 lineages you are currently researching
- You can answer the following without using paper and pencil: If my step-brother from Mom's first marriage and my half-brother from Dad's second marriage marry my twin aunts from grandpa's fourth marriage, what will be my relation to their children?
- You can say "eponymous" without getting tongue-tied
- You belong to every genealogy society within a 10,000 mile radius
- The Family History Center in Salt Lake City rents film from you
- Xerox gives you "frequent copier" discounts
- NASA requests that you turn off your satellite computer system during lift-offs and re-entries
- Lloyd asks you for help!

Beginner's Workshops
Facilitated by DGS

We are pleased to announce that DGS, in conjunction with the Dallas Public Library, is conducting Beginner Genealogy presentations at the satellite libraries.

These presentations entitled "Genealogy - What is it and How do I Get Started?" run 1.5 – 2.0 hours and cover the basics of getting started in genealogy research.

The presentations are free of charge.

We recently held a presentation at the Lancaster-Kiest branch library on September 13th and were well received. Fourteen beginner notebooks and various forms were sold.

We've been contacted by the Kleberg-Rylie branch, Forest Green branch, Park Forest branch, and the Skillman branch to hold similar presentations. We are still in the process of confirming dates with these branches.

Volunteers are needed to assist with this project. If you are interested in assisting, please contact Cindy Burgwin at: education@dallasgenealogy.org or call 972-723-0887 or look on our website: www.dallasgenealogy.org for updated information.

A DGS CHALLENGE IS...When you send mail requiring a signature, i.e., certified or registered mail. Our volunteers do not always get to the mailbox during Post Office business hours, thus cannot always retrieve letters requiring signatures.

We request that if you want a confirmation of receipt of your correspondence or registration, etc....just note this in your enclosure and we will E-mail you a confirmation to ease your mind.
