Journal of the Dallas Genealogical Society

RECORDS ISSUE – WINTER 2014
VOLUME 2, NUMBER 2

Pegasus: Journal of the Dallas Genealogical Society

The Publications Committee chose the name Pegasus for our journal because the winged horse is regarded as the symbol of the Muses and of aspiring to great accomplishments, and more importantly, because a Pegasus has been an icon of the City of Dallas for decades.

First erected in 1934 on the roof of the Magnolia Petroleum Co. headquarters on Commerce Street, the winged horse sign, fabricated by Texlite Signs in Dallas, became one of Dallas's most enduring and recognizable landmarks. In 1959, it became the logo of Mobil Oil when it merged with Magnolia Petroleum. The city conferred landmark status to the sign in 1973. In 1976, it became the property of the City of Dallas.

In 1978, the Magnolia Building was listed in the National Register of Historic Places. Developers bought the building in 1997 and converted it to the present-day Magnolia Hotel. In 1999, in anticipation of Dallas's Millennium Celebration, the original sign was taken down and put into storage when a new sign was commissioned. A completely new, fully-rotating sign was lit for the first time at midnight on 1 January 2000. This work was accessioned into the Public Art Collection in 2000.

Articles Solicited for Pegasus: Journal of the Dallas Genealogical Society

The DGS Publications Committee is actively seeking articles that showcase both genealogical research and writing and compilations that feature unpublished genealogical records. Articles may be submitted by members and non-members of DGS, both hobbyists and professionals. Articles may not have been previously published elsewhere.

There will be two categories of publication: research issues that feature articles (case studies, methodologies, family genealogies) and records issues that feature transcriptions, abstracts, or indexes of records not yet filmed, digitized, or published elsewhere (e.g., cemeteries, family bibles, civil, religious, business groups, etc.).

To encourage article submissions, DGS will compensate authors for their material upon publication. We are one of a handful of societies to reward authors in this manner.

Guidelines for submission and payment terms can be found at: <http://dallasgenealogy.org/prod/index.php/journal-articles>.

Send submissions or questions to: pegasus_editorial@dallasgenealogy.org.

RECORDS ISSUE

From the Editor...

Military topics have been a major point of discussion among genealogists over the last few years since we have been commemorating the 200th anniversary of the War of 1812 (1812–1815) and the 150th anniversary of the Civil War (1861–1865). This year, we began to commemorate the 100th anniversary of World War I (1914–1918). Articles and record transcriptions related to these events are certainly welcome for publication in Pegasus. Such submissions not only honor the people reflected in the articles and transcriptions, but also capture a piece of history and make it accessible to others. This notion is displayed within this issue that includes pieces related to World War I and the Civil War.

Of course military topics are not the only thing we seek for Pegasus. Do you have a family that was linked to north central Texas? How about a case study that illustrates methodology techniques that could be helpful to others? What about transcribing and publishing those old letters your great-grandfather wrote while living in the Dallas area? Why not share your story and have it published in Pegasus? Make 2015 the year for capturing your family stories! Full submission guidelines can be found on the DGS website at <http://www.dallasgenealogy.org/prod/index.php/journal-articles>.

Need some encouragement to write those stories? First, DGS monetarily compensates those who contribute to Pegasus, which is fairly uncommon for a genealogical publication. I would say that is a pretty good incentive. Want to go a step further? Why not submit an entry for the DGS 2015 Writing Contest? Winners receive cash prizes ranging from $100 to $500, and of course, bragging rights! Entries will be accepted from January 1, 2015 to April 30, 2015. Contest rules and guidelines are available on the DGS website at <http://www.dallasgenealogy.org/Info/Guidelines.pdf>.

Sometimes transcription projects seem daunting. But if you know of records that are suitable for transcribing, please let us know. We can help you get started and even find volunteers to help you out. Remember, preserving information related to the Dallas area and its early history is part of the DGS mission. Publishing records transcriptions in Pegasus is one way to fulfill that objective.

In closing, I would like to thank all of the contributors for this issue, the Publications Committee, and our wonderful proofreaders. This issue would not be possible without all of you.

MILITARY IDENTIFIED IN THE 1918 DALLAS CITY DIRECTORY: SURNAMES M–Z

Transcribed by Brenda Stubbs Everett, Janet Khashab, Marianne Szabo, and Karen Walker

The 1918 Dallas City Directory was compiled and published for the city of Dallas, Texas, by the John F. Worley Directory Company. For a cost of $10.00 you could purchase this comprehensive listing of businesses and individuals, including a miscellaneous directory of state and local governments, schools, churches, and societies. This alphabetical listing of businesses and private citizens provided full names, occupations, and addresses.

Since, by 1918, World War I was in full swing, the publishers chose to identify and honor Dallas citizens serving in the armed forces defending our country. This particular index contains surnames M through Z. Some of these included addresses and occupations, and some did not, but all contained the branch of service. No attempts at correcting omissions or misspellings have been made. Names, addresses, and occupations are indexed here just as they appeared in the directory. All spelling, punctuation, and capitalization were kept as is. Reviewing the abbreviation sections provided here can help in interpreting shortened names and occupations.

We hope this helps you in your family history journey.

Honor These Names¹

Honor the names in this issue of the Dallas City Directory that carry the letters U.S.A., U.S.N., or U.S.M., affixed.

All names carrying either of these sets of letters are the names of our Dallas boys who are actually in the service of our Government in either the Army, Navy or Marines.

For some time at least these of our citizens have left Dallas, but the publishers of this Directory feel that most of them will return. In order that their identity in the directory will not be lost and as a historical record for a grateful community the Publishers of this Directory feel that this is the logical place for the record to be kept.

The Publishers also trust that this information will be of value to the subscribers of this Directory who make its publication possible.

Dallas Genealogical Society 2015 Writing Contest Opens January 1; Closes April 30

Dallas, TX—The Dallas Genealogical Society announces that its 2015 Writing Contest will open for entries on January 1, 2015. This is the third year the Society has sponsored this contest, which comes with cash prizes.

The contest is open to both members and non-members of DGS as well as amateurs and professionals. Only original material not previously published elsewhere in any format is eligible. Entries will be accepted January 1 through April 30, 2015. Winners will be announced in July 2015.

While DGS has a goal of preserving Dallas history, subject matter for the competition may range beyond the local geographic area. Articles may include

- advanced methodologies and case studies (not limited by geography)
- family histories and genealogies, particularly those linked to North Texas, including those who came from or left to settle elsewhere
- transcriptions, abstracts or indexes of record groups (including family records) not yet filmed or digitized that relate to Dallas or North Texas
- ethnic, house, or military histories related to Dallas and surrounding counties.

Entries will be judged on accuracy, clarity of writing, and overall impact and interest. First prize is $500; second prize is $300 and third prize is $100. Complete Rules and Guidelines are available at: <http://www.dallasgenealogy.org/Info/Guidelines.pdf>

Winning articles are eligible to be published in Pegasus: Journal of the Dallas Genealogical Society. Past winning entries can be read in the 2013 and 2014 Research Issues of Pegasus, which members can access through the DGS website. Use them as examples of outstanding research and writing.

Send entries via email only, with “DGS Writing Competition” in the subject line to: editorial@dallasgenealogy.com

Objectives

Founded in 1955, the Dallas Genealogical Society (DGS) is the oldest organization of its kind in Texas. Its objectives are:

- To educate by creating, fostering, and maintaining interest in genealogy
- To assist and support the Genealogy Section of the J. Erik Jonsson Central Library in Dallas, Texas
- To collect, preserve, and index genealogical information relating to North Texas and its early history

DGS Meetings

Dallas Genealogical Society meetings, which are free and open to the public, are held monthly (except for June-August). Each begins with a social hour and a business meeting, followed by presentations on genealogical and historical topics. Meetings are held in the plaza level Auditorium and East/West Rooms of the Central Library, 1515 Young Street, in downtown Dallas. Guarded parking is available in the garage beneath the library (enter on Wood Street, one block north of Young Street). See the Calendar tab on the DGS website for specific information on topics, time, and location.

Special Interest Groups

DGS has many special interest groups (SIGs) that meet at various dates, times, and locations throughout the Central Library. See the SIGs tab on the DGS website, the DGS eBlast, or the DGS Newsletter for details.

Society Publications

Published since 1976, the DGS Newsletter is sent directly to members via print and digital media periodically throughout the year. Non-members can view the newsletter on the DGS website after member distribution. Each issue contains information about major DGS events such as the Spring and Fall Lectures and the Summer Institute, upcoming SIG activities, research trips, and monthly general meeting topics. News about other regional and national society events of major interest is published when available.

Pegasus: Journal of the Dallas Genealogical Society continues the traditions of its predecessors, The Dallas Journal, published from 1995 through 2012, and The Dallas Quarterly, published from 1955 through 1994. Dallas Journals published from 1990 to 1994 are available as PDF files on the DGS website. Digital copies of the Dallas Journals from 1995 through 2010 are accessible from links on the DGS website under Resources/Journals, and at the University of North Texas's Portal to Texas History website (<http://texashistory.unt.edu/explore/collections/DLSJL/browse>).

Membership Benefits

DGS is a nonprofit, tax-exempt corporation. Individuals, libraries, and societies may apply for membership. Membership is $35 per year for an individual, $40 for a household.
