The Quarterly is published by the Dallas Genealogical Society (formerly Local History and Genealogical Society) four times per calendar year: March, June, September and December. Subscription is by membership in the Society. Dues for the calendar year are $10.00. Information about the Society and membership may be obtained by writing to the P.O. Box. All correspondence and materials relative to The Quarterly should be directed to The Editor, P. O. Box 12646, Dallas, TX 75212. The Quarterly, the Editor or the Dallas Genealogical Society will not be responsible for the recovery of material printed herein since no proof is required.

EDITOR' DESK

Here I go for another year as Editor of The Quarterly. In addition to the four ladies who were thanked in the June edition for doing the proofreading for The Quarterly, I would also like to thank Jane SKINNER for her help with the proofreading. THANKS, Jane!!!!

I would also like to thank Mrs. Bessie SIMS SHEPPARD for the Wise County, Texas, cemetery censuses she keeps sending in. In case any of you have ancestors in Wise County and would like to do some research there, be sure and go to the Wise County Historical Museum in the old Decatur Baptist College building. They have a wonderful archives room which houses microfilm of the county newspapers, vertical files on county families, cemetery censuses, etc. The building itself is a beauty, and the museum collections are very interesting. I tried to think of some way to carry off their miniature piano collection to go with mine, but Pat HOLMAN convinced me that would leave a bad impression!

If you do research in Kaufman County, here's something that might interest you. Pat SCHRADER tells me that for some strange reason, the Terrell death records for 1954 are at the Water Department.

For Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, researchers, here's an item of interest recently discovered by Joanie MAXWELL. Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania Division, 4400 Forbes Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15213 has a Death Notice Index to the Gazette newspaper which ranges from 1786 through 1913.

BOBBIE F. THORNTON

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

Per by-laws requirements, this report is submitted using figures as of the end of June 1981.

1. Our membership is in excess of 450 persons (and institutions).
2. Our bank balance is in excess of $5,200.00.
3. The Revolutionary War microfilm fund-raising project, which was started and mostly completed last year, was finished in November 1980. Since this had been such a successful project, it was decided to undertake a new project of the same nature, "Index to Compiled Service Records of Volunteer Soldiers Who Served During the War of 1812". This is a 234-roll set and to date the library has about 75 rolls.
4. DGS Annual Workshop was very successful. The speaker was Mr. Milton RUBINCAM, an expert on Pennsylvania and Maryland. We had an out-of-state bookdealer with a large inventory of books. The Workshop generated income in excess of $1,200.00.
5. The sum of $750.00 was donated by DGS to the genealogy section of the Dallas Public Library from funds generated by the Annual Workshop.
6. Book Awards were given to Banks McLAURIN, Jr. and Barbara COX in the family history category, and to Bobbie THORNTON and Helen LU and Gwen NEUMANN in the category of original records.
7. The Quarterly continued to be the fine professional-type journal of which we can be proud. It was decided that the book reviews would be critical reviews rather than just "book jacket" reviews, in order that our members would be able to decide whether to buy a book or not.
8. We were not satisfied with the original format for the cemetery book and since it is intended to be a series of at least five volumes, it seemed important to have a workable format. This has been reworked and now Volume 1 is typed, proof-read and will be ready for the printer shortly.
9. DGS donated materials to the genealogy section of the Dallas Public Library. This includes memorials for deceased members, and copies of books that the Society receives for review in The Quarterly. Also, many members donate books to the Society and these are placed in the library.
10. Our programs for the year were outstanding and of professional caliber.
11. Our research committee is abstracting the early deeds of Dallas County.
12. DGS has been participating in The Dallas Heritage Council and I think this will be of benefit to all types of preservation efforts in Dallas.

The accomplishments of this year were made possible by the efforts of the DGS Board of 1980/81 and the participation of the membership of the Society.

HISTORY OF THE GRAY FAMILY

Written by Amarintha GRAVES GRAY and submitted by Mrs. Phil WITHERSPOON.

Dear Children: Your great Grandfather GRAY whose name I have lost was of Scotch-Irish descent. He came from Scotland over to America and settled in North Carolina. After a time he met Miss DAILY and married her. They lived happily together for one year. Then there was a son born to them, at this time the mother died. He named the son Ira. He took care of the boy until he was five years old, then he married again. There issued from this marriage first Enoch who grew to be a very stout man. While carrying a large log back for the fireplace, he fell dead beside it, having broken a blood vessel. The next son was Job and when he was grown he entered the Baptist ministry. The third son and the only one I know about was Abram. When a man he married and became a farmer. I don't know when the parents died, but have heard that these children all live in Missouri or Illinois.

Ira lived with his father and stepmother until he was sixteen years old. He took an apprenticeship under a wheelright and learned to make the large wooden wheels that they used in that way for saw mills and cotton gins; being an expert at this business he made quite a lot of money. Then he met Miss Elizabeth WOOD, also a native of North Carolina. They were married and moved to Dukedom a town on the line of Kentucky and Tennessee. Seven children blessed their union. First was Martha Ellen; two years later on the twelfth day of April, 1842, James Wilson came to live with them. The next was Job Carver who died in the Civil War; Alice who died in infancy; Almarené Samatha; the next was Sara and the next Ira Daily. Every one of this family passed away through Ira Daily and sons and daughters still live in Texas.

In 1849 this family left Tennessee and moved to Texas. They settled on the Trinity River, right where the city of Dallas now is. He built a log house. He finished up one door shutter, but had not the lumber to finish the other side, so he sawed the logs in half and left them until he could cut the lumber. Then he bought three stands of bees. They had a dog but they had to keep him shut up in the house at night, fearing the wild bears which visited them every night would kill him. One day they got word that they must visit some relatives some distance away. Ira took his bee stands and put them in the house against the door which was partly sawed. They took the dog with them and locked the door, but when they returned the next day they found the bears had clawed out the sawed logs and had gone in and eaten up not only the honey but all the bees as well. The wife was so very angry that she declared she would live among the bears no longer, so they moved into Limestone County settling near Springfield. Here they lived among lots of cotton farms until 1858. Then he bought a stock of cattle and ponies and moved to the north western border and settled in Jackson County, Grave and Munch community. They prospered for two years. Then the Indians began giving us great trouble. These old people lived with Ira Daily after the children married. The father born in 1800, died at the age of 86 years in 1886. The mother died at the age of 96 in 1904. Their baby son Ira Daily, died in 1927, so all the original family has passed over.

ABSTRACTS FROM THE WEEKLY MESSENGER, JEWETT, LEON COUNTY, TEXAS

Volume II, Number 29, Friday, January 7, 1887.

Last week, at Franklin, Frank PATRICK, son of the county treasurer of that county, waylaid and shot at a saloon keeper, with whom he had quarreled, but missing him, the load of buckshot took effect in a young man named Joe MILLER, and perhaps fatally wounding him. At last accounts PATRICK had not been captured.

Talk of the belle's of Cuba's Isle; of the maidens fair in Italy's clime; of the maidemoiselles of sunny France; or, if you choose, the dark-eyed senoritas of Monterey; but for us, just give us the true-born Texas girl, from whose breath you inhale the delicious odor of the good old Texas pork and beans.

Perhaps two more desperate men never before grappled in the deadly strife "that neither spares nor speaks for life". Hundreds of men looked on helplessly from a distance. Seeing WOOD gained rapidly on CHUMNEY they knew that the inevitable clash would be fatal to one or both; that they must meet and would meet.

"With that fury hate bestows
Upon the last embrace of foes,
When grappling in the fight they fold
Those arms that ne'er shall loose their hold."

It was near night fall when this unhappy tragedy was enacted, and after dark Horton WOOD was carried to a relative several miles from town, a shelter was improvised in a dense copse-wood not far away, and a negro man detailed to wait upon him. He remained there for a long while as his wound was of a very serious nature, and with the exception of relatives, a few friends and attendant physician no one ever knew (page 190) his whereabouts, nor to my knowledge did ever attempt to find out.

James D BULLOCH was carried that night down on the Attoyac river where he was raised and had several sisters living. The writer whose wife was sick at the time went to his home about one and one half miles North from town and there remained for several days and until his wife could be removed to her father's, Col. Calloway DEAN's. Then upon the advice of friends he went to his sisters Mrs Ann BERRY's at Waco, Texas. My father and the sheriff were life long friends; they had lived at San Augustine under the Mexican regime, and were soldiers together in the war for Texas independence. Whether that potent influence had anything to do with his conduct or not it all imports me to say, but I do say that no attempt was ever made to arrest me or Horton WOOD, though an attempt was made to arrest J. D. BULLOCH.

Mariah DAVIS, BULLOCH's sister, was as shrewd as a detective, and after BULLOCH reached her house she quickly formed her plans of deception to be put into execution should occasion arise. She had a negro girl that stayed about the house, also a large dinner horn an indispensable requisite in all well regulated country homes at that day and time. The negress was thoroughly drilled what to do should the enemy appear upon the scene. She was at a given signal to run out of the yard and make for the Attoyac river bottom land (page 191) by with all possible speed, and in the event of being overtaken, which was expected, she was to conduct the searching party, should they demand it, to BULLOCH's rendezvous; and to carry out the deception, and to impress the searching party more thoroughly in the belief that the girl had been honest in her guidance, BULLOCH had previously searched out a little cozy nook on the river bank near the house, and carried there an old chair, some novels and papers, and had also improvised a rustic cot upon which were placed a few old quilts &c.

The Deputy Sheriff and a posse came and were near the house when discovered. BULLOCH was in the house at the time and was promptly hustled into a little closet under a stair case, then a chair with a woman's shawl thrown over the back of it was placed against the little door completely hiding it from view.

This required but a few seconds but enough for the party to reach the yard gate, and Mrs DAVIS pretending to have just discovered them jumped out of the door, ran around the house and gave the signal to the girl, who immediately jumped over the yard fence, and with the speed of a gazelle made for the river bottom. The posse, seeing her movements and naturally supposing she was going to give the alarm to BULLOCH, gave chase and finally overtook her: 'twas then the old dinner horn gave out notes of warning long and loud. They knew, or thought (page 192) they knew its import, and hurried the girl forward with dire threats until they reached the supposed rendezvous, but "the bird had flown".

After calling down the anathema's of heaven upon the offending horn and the blower, to which they one and all attributed the miscarriage of their man hunt, they beat the brush for a short while, hoping perhaps, and perhaps not, to rouse "the stag from his lair", they crest-fallen and abashed returned to their homes, nor could all the detectives living have made them believe that BULLOCH was not at that time hid in the cane brakes of the Attoyac river, instead of the little closet in his sister's house.

I have previously spoken of having gone from San Augustine to Waco, and after remaining there about two months I went to Col. DEAN's plantation in Smith County where my wife joined me. A few weeks thereafter Col. DEAN and the balance of the family moved up to Smith County.

War

The war was now on in earnest and bidding farewell to my wife and friends, I in company with John DEAN, brother of my wife, left Smith County for Missouri to join a company from San Augustine under Captain John H BROOCKS then in Mo.

Before we reached the command the battle of Elk Horn had been fought, March 7th 1862. At that battle Lieut. Richard Scurry DEAN, oldest brother of my wife was wounded. He died March 18th, 1862, before we reach- (page 193) ed the command Scurry DEAN was a young man of many noble traits of character and strong individuality. Ever considerate of the opinions and rights of others, always affable, generous and kind he was respected and loved by his comrades in arms, and by his school boy friends and other associates of his youth. He was adored by his old father his brothers and sisters, and of him it may truly be said: "There have been tears and breaking hearts for thee." Time is not always an infallible healer when the heart has bled, and though the father lived many years after the bolt fell that deprived him of his son of whom he was justly proud, the wound was too deep to heal, and though forgetfulness were mercy for his sake it could not be, "And thus the heart may break, yet brokenly live on."

After this depression called forth by the remembrance of an old friend I again take up the thread of my narrative so abruptly broken off.

After the battle of Elk Horn our army retreated back into Northern Ark. and it was there I joined them. At this time orders were given from Richmond to dismount the Texas Brigade, and hurry them with all possible dispatch to Corinth. Mississippi, then threatened by the Yankees. The government had sent transports to Des Arc, Arkansas on the white river, and, before the men had fairly recovered from their dazed condition at the audacity of the order, and attained their (page 194) vocal organs to the necessary key to give proper vehemence, force and effect to the storm of expletives, denunciations, cuss-words and protests that was ranking in their breasts, and ready to well up and out, they were hurried aboard the boats and floating down the river to Memphis, Tennessee. It was then that each man found his voice and the boats were vocal with imprecations called down on the head of Jeff DAVIS, and maledictions upon every officer who was supposed to have anything to do with their de-horsing in the remotest degree. No such volume of voluminous, impromptu and hair-raising cuss-words had ever before been heard upon the Mississippi river from the days of Capt. DESOTO to that time. The mate and deck hands, noted for their profanity and depravity, blushed for very shame, the pilot stuffed his ears full of cotton, and the Chaplain prayed in vain. After reaching Memphis were stored on flat cars, freight cars, stock cars, my kind of cars, inside and out, and hurried to Corinth. We reached Corinth, and there bad weather and no tents, scarce and poor food got in its work and our men sickened and died like sheep with the rot, and strange to say the most robust were the first to fall. We lost by sickness many good men, valorous true men, the first to volunteer, the pick of the south, men who could not be replaced by the depleted South.

(page 195) In regard to the Civil War, suffice it for me to say that I joined Co. C., WHITFIELD'S Legion in the spring of 1862, and was in all the important battles and skirmishes in which my command participated during the remainder of the War. Col. WHITFIELD was promoted to Brigadier General, and was desperately wounded at Iuker, Miss., Sept. 19th, 1862, whilst charging at the head of his brigade upon the 11th Ohio battery. This was a crack battery and when their flag was presented to them by the ladies of the Buckeye State, swore that they would never surrender i nor their battery -- and they never did, but were exterminated almost to a man. When our charging columns, emitting the rebel yell, were hurrying toward them, they stood to their guns answering with shot and shell.

Our charging column was not more than twenty yards from them when their last discharge of grape and canister swept through our ranks, enveloping our men in smoke, carrying several of our brave boys down to death, but not a man faltered, and before they could reload our column had swept over the guns.

Men were lying thick around the cannon, and one poor fellow, attempting to reload his gun had forced the ball about half way down the barrel and, still holding to the ram rod with a death grip lay under the muzzle of his gun. Some one of our men relaxed his death grip, and let him gently down beneath the gun he had stood by so gallantly in life.

(page 196) At the battle of THOMPSON'S Station in Tennessee, which was fought March 5th 1863, James A BROOCKS the captain of my company, was killed; also C. H. ROBERTS, the 3rd Lieut., making two vacancies among the Commissioned Officers, that of 3rd and 2nd Lieutenant. The Writer was elected 2nd Lieutenant, and John GAY 3rd Lieutenant, in which capacity both served during the remainder of the war.

Our command was camped at Canton, Miss. at the time of the surrender, and being a commissioned officer, I with other commissioned officers went to Jackson, Miss. to give our parole.

Our command was then ordered to Vicksburg Miss. where transportation had been provided. We were then taken down the Mississippi river to the mouth of Red river, thence up Red river to a point just below Alexandria, and there disembarked to get home the best we could.

SAM HOUSTON HORTON

To the (Dallas) News: --

On Wednesday, March 12th (1913) Sam Houston HORTON died at the home of his daughter in this city in the 76th year of his age. He was born in San Augustine, San Augustine County, Republic of Texas, Dec 2, 1837, all his living in Texas.

Of him it may be truly said that he was one of the few remaining links connecting the genuine pioneer days of Texas, the formative period, with the splendid era of this day and time. His father, Col Alexander HORTON, came to Texas on Jan 1st 1824, being only in his fourteenth year of age, settling in San Augustine County, where he continued to reside until his death in 1894, at the age of nearly 84 years. Col. Alexander HORTON was closely identified with the history and development of Texas from his very boyhood till his death. When but 23 years old he was elected sheriff and with firm hand, but tactful skill held in check the lawless element from the "neutral strip", between Sabine and Red rivers that not infrequently depredated upon the people west of the Sabine river. In 1831 he participated in the battle between the Texans and Mexicans at Nacogdoches, resulting in signal success for the former. In the campaign of 1836 he was Quartermaster General of the Texas Army, and as a member of Gen. HOUSTON's staff was prominent in the battle of San Jacinto. The last military service he rendered Texas was in the campaign under Gen. Thomas J. RUSK against the Cherokee Indians, taking part in the battle, in what is now Cherokee County, in which Chief BOWLES was killed. Shortly after Texas entered upon her career as a Republic Col. HORTON was elected unanimously by both houses of the Congress to be president of the Board of Commissioners of the San Augustine land district, this Board having charge of all public land matters in that district. During all his life, Col HORTON, standing high in the esteem and confidence of all his section of the State, wielded a strong influence, and always for the good and upbuilding of the state.

Sam Houston HORTON was a worthy scion of so illustrious a father, and in his old home county and in Grayson and Cooke counties, where he lived a number of years, he did much in his vocation as newspaper owner and editor for the material prosperity of those sections. The son of an intrepid soldier and devoted Southerner where Texas called upon her sons in 1861, he at once responded and as a member of Company C., commanded by Captain John H. BROCKS, his school boy friend he went to the front in the ranks, but showing his mettle in several severe battles he was made Lieutenant and served in that capacity until the war closed.

Hous. HORTON and the writer were born in the same town, San Augustine, and very nearly at the same time. Of those of us very near the same age, Gus BROCKS, John BROCKS, Columbus and Mec CARTWRIGHT, Tom BLOUNT and Louis FLATEAU, but three of us are left, the last two named and myself, "in the sere and yellow leaf" of life. We have been spared to see how splendidly our fathers wrought in laying the foundations for the magnificent commonwealth of this day, and the glory of their labors will live on in the glory of Texas.

Charles L. MARTIN.

Dallas, Texas, March 1913. (Clipping from Dallas News.)

Died -- S. H. HORTON.

S. H. HORTON, age seventy six years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs R. S. GREER, 106 South Marsalis Avenue, Wednesday morning of sevilty. Mr HORTON was born in San Augustine, Texas, several years before Texas was admitted to the Union, and has lived in the Lone Star State all of his life. His father was with Sam HOUSTON at the battle of San Jacinto, and he himself was a lieutenant in the cavalry under VAN DORN during the Civil War. Texas was still a Republic when Mr HORTON was a strapping youth in San Augustine.

He is survived by several children. They are: John HORTON of Wichita Falls, Mrs R. S. GREER, Miss Lydia HORTON, Mrs M. F. OVERBY, Holly HORTON of Shreveport, and Senator Guy B. Letter from H. K. DOUGLASS.

Headquarters.
Murchison Oct. 24th 1838.

Col. A. HORTON,

Dear Sir: --

We will leave our encampment to-morrow for an encampment at ANGIWN's place sixteen miles from here on the Sabine road, we will leave ANGIWN's place for the Sabine on Sunday morning where the Indians are encamped in a force variously estimated from one thousand upward. I have only one hundred men but expect to be reinforced in a day or two by fifty or one hundred men, and when we get to the Sabine we will probably be reinforced from San Augustine, Shelby, Sabine and Jasper Counties so as to raise a force against the Indians of five hundred men. We will fight them with two hundred men if we can get no more. I would be very happy to see you and your brave associates in our line, and the country certainly demands the influence and services of all true patriots at this time. I hope the question of the Cherokee boundary has been or soon will be settled to the satisfaction of the people of Eastern Texas. It has been a vexatious question at all times but more particularly so at the present time. I expect to have the pleasure of seeing you join us in a few days.

Very Respt. Your Servant

H K DOUGLASS.

The following is from the Galveston News of April 30th 1889.

San Augustine Texas

To the News: --

In the News of Sunday April 21st inst. under the head of, "San Jacinto Day", was published a list of the gallant braves that fought at San Jacinto on that day fifty three years ago; but in that list one name was omitted that of all others should be there. Col. Alexander HORTON, who was first aid to General HOUSTON at the battle of San Jacinto. Col. HORTON came to this country with his widowed mother and several children younger than himself in 1824 in company with Elisha ROBERTS and his family. Both families settled near San Augustine and during the turbulent times from 1824 until peace reigned Col. HORTON was always on the side of law and order. In 1831 Elish ROBERTS was chosen Alcalde, and finding it difficult to find anyone who would as Sheriff enforce the law, and knowing young HORTON to be a man of iron nerve and determination, as well as a man of fine judgment, appointed him Sheriff. From 1831 to 1833 he served as sheriff, and at the end of the term declined to serve any longer, having rid the country of thieves and robbers. When the conflict came on which was ultimately to separate Texas from Mexico, young HORTON was called from his voluntary retirement to become the aid and confidential friend of General HOUSTON, on that memorable day when HOUSTON held a council with his officers, and they did not want to fight, he turned to his young friend, who was but little more than a boy in age but a man in experience, and asked, "Sandy, what do you say I shall do?" "Fight the infernal devils; we can whip them". He was with HOUSTON in all his undertakings and always stood by him. After the smoke of battle had cleared away and the results of the war became known, Col. HORTON returned to his home in San Augustine County and settled down to farming, and by frugality and industry accumulated quite a fortune. Being in prosperous circumstances he frequently endorsed for friends, and with the result that he had to pay out many thousands of dollars, and at the close of the war of the rebellion, he found his fortune, consisting mostly of negro property, swept away. Since the Civil War he has lived mostly in retirement. Once he was nominated by the Democratic Convention, and elected as representative, which office he filled with satisfaction to his people. His election came to him unsolicited.

After the achievement of her independence by Texas, and there was such an opening for land swindler and thieves in Texas by the proving up of bogus claims by disreputable men, Col. HORTON was appointed, by the Congress of Texas, President of the Board of Land Commissioners of San Augustine County, and never has there been the slightest suspicion of any certificate to which his signature was attached. He is now old and infirm, bowed down by the weight of years, but withal affable and cheerful. Loved, honored and respected by all he awaits with Christian patience and fortitude the Master's call to join the hosts of friends, compeers and comrades, many of whom have long since preceded him to the land, "Where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest".

Letter from Gen. Sam HOUSTON.

Nacogdoches Texas, 15, July 1837.

To Col. Alexander HORTON,

Sir,

You are hereby required to use every caution in your power to sustain the Civil Authorities in the County of San Augustine in the discharge of their duties in enforcing the laws of the country. It is expected of you whenever a mob acting in violation of the laws shall attempt to defy the Civil authorities, to call out sufficient force to at once disperse the mob and arrest the ringleaders. The civil authorities of the county must be sustained at all risks.

The revenue laws of the county must be enforced and you will be held responsible for the same so long as your station will enable you to render the aid required.

When the campaign shall commence it must devolve upon the Chief Justice of the county. Without law we are worse than slaves of Santa Anna and centralism.

I have the honor to be
Your Obt Servant

Sam HOUSTON

CITY CEMETERY, DAVENPORT, IOWA

The following letter was received by Dallas Genealogical Society and may be of interest to our readers, and of help to the City of Davenport.

Dear Friend:

The Park and Recreation Department of the City of Davenport has had the responsibility for the care and maintenance of the Davenport City Cemetery for a number of years. The recent surge of interest in genealogy has caused a large increase in requests for information concerning burials and plot ownership. Unfortunately many of the records were lost, destroyed or stolen in the years preceeding 1971, the year the Park and Recreation Department took over the responsibility for the cemetery. Records prior to 1880 are virtually nonexistent; time and vandalism have eliminated many gravestones.

In order to make as much of this information as possible available to genealogists and historians, the City has entered into an agreement with the Scott County Genealogical Society for the reconstruction of these records. This is a complex undertaking, needing the close cooperation of the public and private sectors - museums, genealogical and historical societies, and individual citizens.

Many persons once residing in Scott County, Iowa have moved to other states and we are asking your society to poll your membership and friends for Scott County connections.

Specifically, we need to know if anyone has ancestors buried in the Davenport City Cemetery. If so, we would appreciate as much of the following information as possible: name, date of death, place of death, age or birth date, place of birth, lot number, lot owners name, and if before 1880, cause of death. Additionally, if anyone knows the name of any lot owner, descendant of a lot owner, or has in their possession a deed to a lot or a plat of the cemetery, we would appreciate a transcript of this information.

Counting on your valued assistance, we have enclosed a self-addressed stamped envelope for your convenience. Please reply even if no information is uncovered. Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Samuel K. BISHOP
City Sexton

BOOK REVIEW EDITOR: Pat SCHRADER

A PORTER FAMILY IN AMERICA.

Author: Homer W. PORTER. Softbound, spiral, 8 1/2" x 11", 132 pages. Write Mr. PORTER at 6354 Elder Grove Drive, Dallas, Texas 75232 for price.

A PORTER Family In America is divided into three parts: 1) all of the known descendants of Henry Hamilton PORTER (born 1758) and his wife, Sarah CHRISTY; 2) "Other PORTERS"; and 3) Index. Included in the second part are the collateral lines and some information on many families, especially WATSON, STRAIN and KIDWELL. Other families mentioned in the book are: ARMSTRONG, FENDER, PRAZIER, GREEN, MCADOO, McCAGHREN, SAUNDERS, SELF and THOMAS. All of these surnames are capitalized - a great help for those searching collateral lines. Part three, the Index, is a full-name index and a "miscellaneous" index which includes schools, cemeteries and churches.

This is a neat, clean book with wide margins and pages printed only on one side. It also has the novel touch of the author's name on the inside edge of each page.

Mr. PORTER has an honest approach to his family history. When he does not have the precise information, he separates the old family tales from the truth with these statements: "We are not positive" and "it is our belief". This easy folksy style is found frequently throughout the book and culminates in his invitation to other PORTER family genealogists to share their information also.

Researchers with southern PORTER families will enjoy the product of this 80-year-old gentleman.

INDEX TO MARRIAGES, FIRST U. S. COURT, NORTHERN DISTRICT, MUSKOGEE, INDIAN TERRITORY, 1890-1907. Volume 1.

Compiled by Oklahoma Genealogical Society, P. O. Box 314, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73101. Softbound, 6" x 9", 77 pages. Write Society for price.

Part 1 of this book is a hidden gem. It is 25 pages of "Inventory from some marriage and divorce records, 1869-1894", and contains requests, marriages and decrees that were tucked away in the Office of the Superintendent of the Five Civilized Tribes in Muskogee. The dates and document numbers are included so that the researcher can send for a copy.

Part 2 of this book is the Index alluded to in the title. This index contains the names of the brides and grooms and also the book and page number for locating the original records. It is followed by a brides index. There is also an information section explaining the judicial district and the three divisions, the later districts, and an Oklahoma map showing the boundaries of the Indian Nations compared to present counties.

A very useful book. BEGINNERS NOTE: There are two indexes, one at the end of each section.

1880 AND 1890 CENSUS, CANADIAN DISTRICT, CHEROKEE NATION, INDIAN TERRITORY.

Compiled by Oklahoma Genealogical Society, P. O. Box 314, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73101. Softbound, 6" x 9", 90 pages. Write Society for price.

NOTICE: Researchers with Indian lines other than Cherokee, researchers with western and midwestern lines, and all researchers who cannot find your families in 1880 and 1890 will want to see this book. It is not limited to Cherokees! The people enumerated in it are also adopted Cherokees, adopted Chickasaws, adopted Choctaws, Creeks, Coloreds and Whites.

Both censuses are set up in broad-semi-alphabetical lists by surname. Following each name is: nativity, age and sex. The 1890 census also includes occupation and marital status of each person. The names enumerated are both Indian surnames such as SPLITNOSE, SALTFACE, BUZARDFLOPPER, TOONEY-YEE, BUSHYHEAD; and common non-Indian names such as CLARK, EVANS and SMITH.

The transcriber appears to be very diligent in her copying of the originals. Where a question might arise, there is underlining to assure the researcher that the letter or word is not in error. Also where the transcriber knew other facts, there are notations such as "said to be white", and "son of Sarah TACKETT", and "granted citizenship . . . November 1880".

A neat book, easy to use with an informative introduction and maps. BEGINNERS NOTE: The surnames are in broad-semi-alphabetical lists. When checking for your name, glance at every surname which begins with the same letter.

TAKE YOUR PENCILS AND FIGURE OUT THE DAY ON WHICH YOU WERE BORN
Pleasant Pastime For An Evening

Abstracted from an old newspaper clipping in the possession of Elisabeth PINK. Name of newspaper and date of article not available.

On what day of the week were you born? The chances are ten to one that you don't know, and probably never thought of it. It's lucky, too, when you have got along in years, and silver hairs begin to show here and there, and a thousand and one cares of everyday life crowd in upon your thoughts, whether you remember even the date of your birthday until it has gone by. Ask ninety-nine persons out of a hundred, and they will confess ignorance of the day of the week on which they made their debut on this sea of trouble. They were present, of course, but had too many things to occupy their attention, to glance at the calendar. The question is rather an interesting one, however, and especially so in view of the prophecies of the ancient folk-lore, as to ill or good fortune attending the different days of the week. These prophecies are of great antiquity. Recurring in different forms in the literature of many nations, usually in rude verse and accepted there as of weight, they find place even yet in the superstitions which have come down to the present generation. Unlucky Friday; of course you don't believe in it. But away down somewhere in the inner recesses of your being there is something which suggests that, while it may not make any difference, you might just as well, or -- or perhaps, you had better begin that affair some other day. And ten to one your superstition gets the better of your common sense. Don't it? That Friday is especially unlucky for anybody but convicted murderers is scarcely susceptible of proof; therefore, if you happen not to be one, you may safely preserve your soul in peace, and take your chances with fate and Friday.

Returning to folk-lore, we find a series of prophecies, regarding the days of the week, which will do as well as any others for our purpose. They are of ancient Scotch origin, it is believed, and are to this effect: --

Monday, fair of face. Tuesday, full of grace. Wednesday, child of woe. Thursday, has far to go. Friday, loving and giving. Saturday, must work for a living. Sunday, wise and bonny, and good and gay.

Having this in view you may wish to determine what your future is. To get at the day of the week, an ingenious chap has worked out a rule whose mathematical reasons are not so easy to explain; but which appears to give very accurate results. Take your pencil and try it, not only for your birthday but for any event, business or social, whose day you may wish to determine. The rule is given only for this century.

Take the year (omitting the century), add to it one-fourth of the year (omitting the fraction), then add the day of the year, and lastly add the figure 3. From the sum subtract 1, if the year is a leap-year and not otherwise. Divide by 7, and the remainder will indicate the day of the week. If the remainder is 1, the day will be Sunday, if 2, Monday and so on. If there is no remainder, the day is Saturday. This rule is exceedingly simple and the principal difficulty is in getting at the day of the year. This may most readily be reached by making a table of the months with the days in each; remember to change February to 29 if a leap year.

The following is an illustration of the rule: -- Huckleberry FINN was born March 14, 1884. On what day of the week?

The year (omitting the century)	84
Add one-fourth of the year (omitting fraction if any)	21
Add the day of the year	74
	182
1884 being leap year, deduct	1
Divide by seven	7 181 54 - 6

The remainder 6 signifies the 6th day of the week, beginning with Sunday; therefore March 14 was Friday.

What day of the week was December 9, 1827?

The year (omitting the century)	27
Add 1/4 (omitting fraction)	6
Add day of the year	343
Add century index figure
Divide by seven	7 379 54 - 1

The remainder 1 gives the day as Sunday, December 9th, 1827.

SWINDLER - BLACK

Wednesday, December 29, 1886, there occurred in Jewett, Texas, a charming wedding, in which many Little Rock people have an interest. The groom was Mr. William P. SWINDLER, brother of Mrs. J. K. BRANTLEY, of our city. He is an old Little Rock boy, having been connected with the BUTLER & GIBB establishment ever since his boyhood.

The bride is the daughter of Major Lafayette BLACK, one of the most prominent citizens of Texas, and she is a beautiful and accomplished lady, possessing hosts of warm friends.

The wedding -- at the home of the bride's parents -- was a delightful occasion, and was attended by a pleasant company of invited guests, among them being Mr. and Mrs. J. K. BRANTLEY, of Little Rock. Many presents were received from friends in the east, and from home friends. The young people will make their home in Little Rock, in the residence, No. 1122 Cross street.

 Names in the above abstracts are not included in the Index to Persons.
