EDITORIAL POLICY

The editor of The Dallas Quarterly welcomes manuscripts of TEXAS material and material of an unusual but useful nature for proposed publication. All manuscripts should be sent to:

Editor, The Dallas Quarterly, P.O. Box 12648, Dallas, Texas 75225

Manuscripts should be typed on standard-sized paper with the author's name on each page, and each page should be numbered. Please include a cover letter giving permission of the author to publish the material in The Dallas Quarterly. When sending photocopies of original old manuscripts, such as handwritten Bible records, please include a typed transcript.

Some types of records suitable for publication include Bible records, Dallas and surrounding county court records (i.e. marriages, deed abstracts, naturalizations, will abstracts etc.), Texas cemetery inscriptions, "How-To" articles (the use of special collections, holdings of a particular repository, etc.), abstracts from Texas newspapers and brief family genealogies with Texas connections. The Editor makes the final decision on material to be published. Following publication, all original material is placed in the Genealogy Section of the J. Erik Jonsson Public Library, located on Young Street in Dallas. Every effort is made to present authentic material, but the Dallas Genealogical Society cannot be responsible for the accuracy or the publishing rights of the material furnished by contributors.

The Dallas Genealogical Society is a nonprofit, federally tax-exempt organization. Individuals, libraries, or societies may apply for membership. Annual dues are $12.00 for the calendar year if paid by January 31, after January 31st they are $14.00. All members receive the quarterly journal and the newsletter with membership.

QUERIES: Queries do not require a Texas connection and are free to the members of the Dallas Genealogical Society. Nonmembers should include $3.00 for each query. To eliminate correspondence and delay, we reserve the right to abbreviate and condense. Queries will be printed in the DGS Newsletter.

DALLAS BLUE BOOK

Dallas, Texas

Dedication

In writing this paragraph which dedicates the first Blue Book for Dallas, my wish is that it may serve its purpose, which is a directory, concise and complete, for the first families of Dallas.

Mrs Margaret C CLARY, Editor

DGS Editors Note: The 1925 Dallas Blue Book is a treasure for genealogists, listing in parentheses some of the wives maiden names and in some cases a city and state. Their is no statement indicating the meaning of the city and state. I assume this is a place of birth or perhaps place of residence at the time of marriage. Standard abbreviations will be used and the persons affiliation with various county clubs and organizations will not be listed. This Dallas Blue Book contains several pictures of the Debutante's of the 1924 Idlewild Ball.

RESEARCHING IN THE TEXAS/DALLAS HISTORY & ARCHIVES DIVISION

* by Cindy C. SMOLOVIK

Texas Family Ties at the Dallas Public Library

The Texas/Dallas History and Archives Division of the Dallas Public Library system is located on the 7th floor of the J. Eric Jonsson Central Library, 1515 Young Street. This division collects and makes available to researchers materials related to Dallas and the State of Texas. The Texas/Dallas collection is a treasure trove of local and state history. A trained staff, archival finding guides, and subject indexes provide access to the collection. Because of the many unique and fragile sources in the collection, no items circulate outside the library. They are located in a limited access area and retrieved by staff members for researchers.

The Texas/Dallas collection contains a number of resources for genealogists with family ties in Texas. Included in the holdings are newspapers, tax rolls, county histories, biographical encyclopedias, archives collections, photographs, maps and books relating to Texas.

NEWSPAPERS

Although not always accurate, newspapers are one of the best sources for giving a glimpse of the past. Newspapers are available for Dallas, the Houston area as well as smaller holdings for other Texas towns. A detailed list is available from the staff at the service desk.

Dallas:

- The Dallas Herald*, 8 December 1855 - 1885
- Dallas Daily Herald*, 11 February 1873 - 1886
- Dallas Times Herald*, 6 October 1886 - Present
- Dallas Morning News*, October 1885 - Present

Other newspapers around the state include:

- Galveston Daily News*, 21 February 1865 - February 1919
- Houston Chronicle*, 15 October 1901 - 1954 and 1963 - 1986
- Clarksville Northern Standard*, 20 August 1842 - December 1888

TEXAS NEWSPAPER NAME INDEX 1830-1885

Newspapers are often the only available information regarding people and events. Unfortunately access, due to the lack of indexes, is not always easy. The Texas Newspaper Name Index is one helpful source for the years 1830 - 1885. Developed by the University of Texas in Austin this card file is available on microfilm. The index is alphabetical by last name and includes obituaries, advertising, minor mentions, as well as longer feature stories and in depth articles. A wide variety of early Texas newspapers, such as the Dallas News, Dallas Herald, Clarksville Northern Standard and the Telegraph and Texas Register are included in this 19th century resource, making it one of the few tools for biographical research using newspapers.

DALLAS MORNING NEWS INDEX 1917-1976

Another index on microfilm is for the Dallas Morning News, covering the years 1917-1976. This source is tedious to use and is not recommended for the faint of heart. It is inconsistent, not always accurate, has bizarre subject headings, and is in date order within subject entries, however it is the only index to a Dallas newspaper for this time period. Sometimes something is better than nothing at all.

DATATIMES - NEWSPAPER COMPUTER INDEX SERVICE

The Dallas Morning News from August 1984, The Houston Chronicle from May 1985 and the Austin American Statesman from January 1989 are indexed through a computer service called Datatimes. The Houston Chronicle is the only Texas newspaper on this service that is fully indexed including obituaries. The Dallas and Austin papers do not include obituaries. Datatimes is available at the Dallas Public Library (and other libraries in the country) as a fee service. The fee is based on the time the computer operator is using the database. The Dallas Times Herald is not indexed at this time. These indexes can be helpful in locating statewide, national and local events.

OTHER INDEXES

There are a few other indexes to more current newspapers in Texas. The Houston Post has an index in book form beginning in 1977 and is continuing.

NEWSPAPER VERTICAL FILES 1945 - CURRENT

One other newspaper resource worth mentioning is the vertical files. These consist of newspaper clippings and other pamphlet materials ranging from the late 1940s to current date. A wide range of subject headings such as cities, county, tornadoes, crime, current events, biographies, and elections make up this extensive collection. The papers currently being clipped by the Texas/Dallas staff are the Dallas Morning News, Dallas Times Herald, Dallas Downtown News, and the Dallas Observer. Although these are more current and more subject oriented than biographical these files can help genealogist with events in the lives of their family members.

TEXAS TAX ROLLS

One of the essential tools of genealogical research is tax rolls. This source helps to locate a person and their property. The tax rolls on microfilm include (a) Ad Valorum Taxes and (b) Poll Taxes. Poll tax records are very valuable when locating laborers or tradesmen who did not own property but did vote.

(a) Ad Valorum Taxes: import duties, or other fees levied in proportion to the certified value of the merchandise or goods.

(b) Poll Taxes: A head tax, a tax of a specific sum levied upon each person within a certain class "such as, all males of a certain age" without reference to his property or lack of it.

The Texas/Dallas collection has available on microfilm tax rolls for the State of Texas between 1837-1921. The earliest rolls for each county depends on the year the county was created. Since many of the counties were formed from larger counties researchers should know enough of the county history in order to trace older county records if necessary. One of the best sources for brief county histories is the Handbook of Texas or use The Handy Book for Genealogists by Everton Publishers. The rolls between 1837 and 1910 are in individual sets by county. The rolls from 1911-1921 are in sets by the individual year. Each year begins with Anderson County through Zavala with the exception of 1911 which includes Abernathy county. After 1921 tax information must be obtained at the individual county.

DALLAS COUNTY AND CITY OF DALLAS TAX ROLLS

The tax rolls for Dallas County are included in the 1910- 1921 reels and are extended with two more sets covering 1911-1947 and 1948-1959. In addition the city of Dallas real estate and personal property tax rolls from 1879 to 1919 are also available on microfilm. Included in these reels are Oak Cliff and the city of East Dallas. After 1919 the tax rolls are not available on film. The original tax records for the city of Dallas are retained by the Dallas City Secretary's Office.

COUNTY & CITY HISTORIES BIOGRAPHICAL ENCYCLOPEDIAS

The Texas/Dallas collection maintains histories written about counties and cities as a major portion of our holdings. County histories and biographical encyclopedias are a wonderful resource, however many have no index. One of the tools available in Texas/Dallas is an extensive card file that indexes some of these histories. The "Index to Biographical Studies of Texans" was prepared by the Texas Historical Survey and sponsored by the University of Texas in 1933-1935.

This card file indexes such titles as Indian Wars and Pioneers of Texas, by John Henry Brown, The Heroes of San Jacinto, by Sam H Dixon and Louis W. Kemp, Davis' Encyclopedia of Texas, Philip Lindsley's History of Greater Dallas and Vicinity, and Francis White Johnson's History of Texas and Texans, as well as many of the memorial and biographical county histories. This card file makes these histories even more valuable and usable. The file is accessible, easy to use, and basically accurate. It is a definite place to start when looking for Texas relatives.

CITY & SOCIAL DIRECTORIES/PHONE BOOKS

City directories, social directories and phone books are also valuable resources for finding Texas people. Our holdings include various towns from around the state from the 1950s forward, although many cities have significant gaps. We have large cities as well as smaller towns such as Yoakum, Greenville, Victoria, Zapata, Fairview, and Post.

A city directory is more than an address. This one source can give spouses names as well as occupation. A city directory lists people who did not have a telephone and is older than most telephone books. Directories also provide information for the city, county, societies, associations, churches, schools and businesses.

Some of the Dallas City Directories are on microfilm but the majority of them are the originals. Because these are printed on the worst possible paper their condition is very fragile. The ones that are extremely brittle may not be photocopied.

Social directories range from a listing of members of various clubs to those considered to be first families of an area. Usually you will find names, addresses, children, schools attended, affiliation with organizations, etc. Titles of the Dallas social directories changed over the years due to the changes in publishers. These materials are a good place to begin once relatives have been located in a particular city at a certain time.

THE CITY AND COUNTY OF DALLAS, TEXAS

A portion of the Texas/Dallas holdings concentrates on the city and county of Dallas. Beginning with the Memorial and Biographical History of Dallas County, Dallas Rediscovered, Dallas City Directories and the Dallas newspapers researchers can find a wealth of materials in this area. One of the best genealogical resources are the county records which are housed in the Texas/Dallas collection as a member of the Regional Historical Resource Depositories (RHRD) system.

REGIONAL HISTORICAL RESOURCE DEPOSITORY FOR DALLAS COUNTY, TEXAS

The Regional Historical Resource Depository and Local Records Program (RHRD) of the Texas State Library is a network of local libraries created to preserve historical materials. The Texas State Library states the purpose of the RHRD twenty-five regional depositories system as:

"To locate, identify, and preserve local government records and private records of permanent value; to make them available to the public for research and to assist researchers in using them..."

This network of libraries was developed in order to give better access to the records by locating them in various areas instead of everything being stored in Austin. The Texas/Dallas History and Archives Division of the Dallas Public library is one of the depositories in the RHRD system.

Although the RHRD holdings for Dallas County have scattered dates, are incomplete and have not been filmed, some of the other counties in the RHRD system have most of the early court records, which have been microfilmed. Each county decides when and what records will be placed in the RHRD holdings.

A variety of interesting and useful resources for Dallas County can be found in the RHRD holdings. Probably the most important are the Civil Courts Minutes Books for the 14th, 44th, 68th, 95th, 101st, and 116th District Court. These records include divorce cases, land disputes, and some adoptions (Adoptions are difficult to find without the names of the natural and adoptive parents). The years covered in each of these courts are as follows:

Dallas County - Civil District Court Minute Books

14th/A District, 1846 - March 1939
44th/B District, July 1889 - 8 March 1940
68th/C District, 2 February 1909 - 28 January 1939
95th/D District, 26 June 1923 - 10 November 1939
101st/E District, 1 May 1925 - 16 November 1939
116th/F District, 23 June 1930 - September 1939

Access to the civil minutes are through the direct and reverse indexes. Due to their size and fragile condition access to these is restricted. As a general rule the library staff will look up the cases in the indexes and bring the minutes books to researchers. Copies can be obtained for $1.00 per page, plus $.50 postage.

NATURALIZATION PAPERS and DOCKETS 1865 - 1914

Other useful resources are the Naturalization Papers and Naturalization Dockets for 1865 - 1914. Although many of these cases can be obtained through the district court civil minutes the actual papers and documents can be quite valuable. The civil minutes will give the date of declaration to become a citizen and the country of birth. The very early naturalization papers do not give much more information but will often contain an original signature. However, after the change in naturalization laws in 1906 the declarations of intent are much more detailed. For those looking for immigrants between 1906 and 1914 these documents are simply a genealogist's dream. They contain full names, age, occupation, a wonderful physical description including birthmarks or other distinctive marks and scars such as tatoos, place of birth, date of birth, where living at time of declaration, what vessel emigrated on, last foreign residence, and which port arrived at in the United States and the date of arrival. For the Genealogist doing immigration records these sources should not be overlooked.

OTHER RHRD RECORDS

CITY OF DALLAS CALABOOSE RECORDS

These records do not have a index, are listed by date and provide the persons name, valuables, charge, arresting officers, nationality, age, sex, residence and occupation.

PROBATE DOCKETS 1846 - 1900

Index of names and dates of when the court case was heard.

MEDICAL REGISTERS 1887-1919, 1932-1981

Medical Registers list when a doctor registered to practice in Dallas County and occasionally which school a doctor attended. These records are not as heavily used as the others but they can be useful.

RHRD RECORDS

The RHRD records for Dallas County have not been filmed, but other county records in the RHRD system have. The microfilmed records are available through the interlibrary loan system. A listing by county shows which films can be ordered. A maximum of six reels can be requested at one time. The RHRD system was designed in order to preserve the records of the state. Through this system of repositories and loans of microfilmed records the Texas State Library is making these resources more accessible.

OTHER DALLAS COUNTY COURT RECORDS

Other court records that are not part of the RHRD that are helpful are Dallas County probate records, county marriage records and cemetery records.

PROBATE RECORDS 1846 - 1900

The probate records are generally related to wills, however the cases regarding the mentally ill and the State Hospital are also found in these records. The Probate Dockets are part of the RHRD records, and basically indicate names and dates when the court case was heard. The actual probate papers are separate. These are microfilm records of the documents in probate cases for Dallas County between 1846- 1900. The microfilm contains all the documents available pertaining to a particular probate case at the time of filming. These include Wills, affidavits and any other pertinent documents involved in the case. All original papers are located at the County Records Building. The Dallas Genealogy Society microfilmed all the original papers of the probate packets and published an index in 1978.

MARRIAGE RECORDS

Another index compiled by the Dallas Genealogical Society in 1978 concerns the Marriage Records of Dallas County, Books A-E, 1846-1877. The second volume of Marriage Records for Dallas County starts with Book F-H, 1877-1885. Volume II has been completed and is available for purchase. These books are typed and index both brides and grooms, list the date of the marriage and who performed the ceremony. A few of the declarations of intent to marry are part of the RHRD holdings (June 1929 - August 1933), but they are not comprehensive. After the time period indicated these records must be obtained at the County Records building.

INDEX TO TEXAS DEATH RECORDS 1903 - 1973

One of the best pieces of news for biographical research in Texas is the extension of the surname Index to Texas Death Records on microfilm. For those unfamiliar with this source, the microfilm lists the date and county of death and the death certificate number. Previously these records ranged from 1903-1946. They now cover 1903-1973. This is a big improvement for searchers looking for more recent relatives. Using this index a researcher can then go to the newspapers for obituaries armed with a date.

MAP COLLECTION

Maps can be very useful and beautiful. Cartography is an art form. This fact must be kept in mind because not all maps are accurate. However most maps can be used to pinpoint cities, towns, and property. The smaller roads and trails are more difficult because the routes varied due to weather and other hazards. There are many different types of maps. The Texas/Dallas Collections contains railroad maps, Sanborn fire insurance maps, historic maps of Texas, commercial atlases, and city and county maps with heavy concentration on Dallas.

The map collection is an area that is now being processed with access and descriptions of our holdings to be available in the future. At this time Dallas city and county maps are accessible. The originals have been transferred to mylar, making them stronger for handling. Once a mylar map has been made the originals are no longer available for use. However, the mylar maps show essential details and can be copied.

TEXAS STREET AND HIGHWAY MAPS

In addition to the mylar maps a collection of street and highway maps is available. The Dallas holdings include 1930s - 1980s. The Texas highway maps cover the years 1926-1980s. City maps from around the state between 1950 and 1970s include Houston, Austin, Waco, Sherman and other cities. These are not inclusive some cities may have only one map for a particular year. A card file lists the holdings. The division is also currently collecting all recent city and county maps that are available through area chambers of commerce. These maps are originals and can be photocopied carefully.

HISTORIC TEXAS MAPS

Some of the historic Texas maps in the collection are: 1838 Baker Map of Texas, 1840 General Austin's Map of Texas with Part Adjoining States, 1863 J.H. Colton's Map of Texas, and an 1886 Railroad and County Map of Texas. These are originals and should be handled with care. Some have been encapsulated for preservation and may be photocopied.

MAPS ON MICROFILM

There are two microfilm map sources that are important: Land Grant Maps and Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps. The Land Grant Records include an abstract index for Land Grants (1835-1889). From this index researchers are directed to county maps on film to locate the property. The Texas/Dallas has these and others around the state with similar time frames. These maps enable researchers to locate homes, business, churches and other buildings. They are also useful for giving a more in depth look at the layout of a city.

CEMETERY RECORDS

Dallas County, Texas: Genealogical Data From Early Cemeteries, Vol. 1 was published in 1981 covering the following cemeteries: Addison, Carrollton, Coppell,, Farmers Branch, Garland, Richardson, Rowlett, Sachse and Dallas, north of Northwest Highway. Volume 2 was published in 1989 covering: Edgewood, Floyd-Taylor, Hutchins, Patrick-Pruitt, Porter, Rawlins and Stadden. Both of these volumes were published by the Dallas Genealogical Society and can be purchased from them. Other information on cemeteries can be found in the vertical files.

COLLEGE & HIGH SCHOOL YEARBOOKS

One resource available in the Texas/Dallas collection that many seem unusual are the high school and college yearbooks. The annual collection covers schools from the entire state, with a heavier concentration on the Dallas area.

OTHER HIGH SCHOOL COLLECTIONS

As well as good representation from Oak Cliff High School, Adamson High School, Hockaday, and Greenhill Schools to name only a few. These are a wonderful source for researchers because they have photographs, and highlight special interests of the students. This can give more insight into relatives ideas and activities at this age. We are actively seeking donations in this area for Texas schools.

TEXAS/DALLAS BOOK COLLECTION

In addition to county histories and yearbooks the overall book collection in the Texas/Dallas division concentrates on Texana and Dallas history. County history books are available for counties surrounding Dallas County, and for a majority of other Texas counties. The collection includes the famous works of J. Frank Dobie and Dr. Malcolm McClean's Papers Concerning Robertson's Colony in Texas to lesser known authors and rare books this collection covers all aspects of Texas. Books on wildflowers, oil booms, cattle barons and historic buildings highlight the different aspects of Texas and Texas history.

MANUSCRIPT & PHOTOGRAPH COLLECTION

The Manuscript and Photograph archives compliment the book collection with a major concentration on Dallas.

MANUSCRIPT COLLECTION

Some of the family papers include the Santerre and Cretien Families of the French and Swiss socialist colony, La Reunion, and the Crutcher Family of East Dallas. These collections are fully processed and have a finding guide available for researchers. They contain letters, photos, financial records, and scrapbooks that highlight the lives of family members while giving a personal glimpse of living history. The Neiman-Marcus and Sanger-Harris archives give a business and fashion history of Dallas. Although not necessarily genealogical in nature archives collections do give a genealogist insight into two very important areas. One is the history of a location with a personal view of the times and the other is arrangement and preservation of family papers. As a genealogist begins to find family papers, letters, photographs, scrapbooks, and other keepsakes the problem of proper storage and preservation arises. Visiting archives while doing research can be very helpful. Sometimes what cannot be found in published sources is available only in archives materials.

PHOTOGRAPHY COLLECTION

The photograph collection concentrates on Dallas. The Texas/Dallas collection maintains approximately 500,000 negatives, the majority from the Hayes, Rogers, Haskins and Dallas City Photographer collections. The collection has good representation of Dallas in the late 1880's early 1900s, 1920s, 1930s and 50s. The collection is growing stronger in the 1960s and 1970s. The city Photographer Collection will increase the 1970s and 1980s as the negatives are transferred after their usefulness to the City Photographer has passed. The images include street scenes, personalities, businesses, parades, and buildings. The collection is accessed by a visual file which consists of contact prints mounted on cards and arranged by subjects. Prints are currently available for $7.00 (5x7), $10.00 (8x10), plus tax and postage.

TEXAS/DALLAS HISTORY AND ARCHIVES DIVISION

The staff of the Texas/Dallas History and Archives Division is proud of our holdings and happy to help researchers use them. The collection contains over 50,000 books titles, 6000 rolls of microfilm and fiche, supported by maps, photographs, manuscript collections and other resource materials. The Texas/Dallas division is open to researchers during regular library hours. These resources are available and ready to aid in the search of Texas family ties.

 DALLAS COUNTY PIONEER ASSOCIATION

(Daily Herald - Saturday Morning, July 17th, 1875)

Pioneers of Dallas County

On Tuesday the 13th day of July, 1875, in pursuance to a previous call the pioneers of Dallas county met at the Court house, in the city of Dallas, for the purpose of organizing a Pioneer Association.

On motion of Dr. A. M. COCHRAN, Captain W. H. WITT was called to act as President. Isaac B. WEBB was elected Vice President, and M. V. COLE Secretary.

COCHRAN and Parson BALDRIDGE were called on for speeches when the following gentlemen responded: Hon. John H. COCHRAN, W. P. COCHRAN and Parson BALDRIDGE, who amused the meeting by reminding us of the old times in settling Dallas county.

John Henry BROWN was then introduced by Dr. A. M. COCHRAN who went on to give a general statement why such an organization would be a great source of pleasure to ourselves as well as to our descendants.

BOOK REVIEWS

by J. Bruce Moseley

Upon receipt of a gratis copy donated to the Dallas Genealogical Society, books that are currently in print and available for sale will be noticed in The Dallas Quarterly. After review, the publication will be placed in the Dallas Public Library. All books to be reviewed should be sent to the Dallas Genealogical Society along with complete ordering instructions.

General Land Office of Texas. Gifford WHITE. 1985, reprinted 1989. Hardbound, 5.5" x 8.5", xii + 254 pages. Full-Name Index. Order from Genealogical Publishing Co., Inc., 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, Md. 21202. $25.00 + $2.50 P&H.

Under Mexican colonization law, immigrants to Texas were required to prove their good character by bringing credentials from their place of origin, or by the testimony of two credible witnesses. The laws also required that the immigrant state in the petition for admission his place of origin, marital status, occupation, and the size of his family.

The Character Certificate files in the General Land Office in Austin contain all the loose papers relating to the admission process. This book contains over 3400 abstracts of Certificates which can be found in the files, and provides unique genealogical records on early Texas settlers.

Stephen F. Austin's Register of Families. Villamae WILLIAMS. 1984, reprinted 1989. Hardbound, 5.5" x 8.5", xii + 186 pages. Full-Name Index. Order from Genealogical Publishing Co., Inc. 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, Md. 21202. $20.00 + $2.50 P&H.

Shortly after Stephen Austin began granting land to colonists in 1824, a Mexican law was enacted which required him and other Empresarios to record personal information on every settler. In the Austin Colony, this information was recorded in a ledger called the "Regis de las Familias".

Entries included the name, marital and family status, place of birth or last residence, and occupation of the settlers. The Austin Record of Families was retroverted to include arrivals as early as 1823, and it was maintained through February 1836.

This is a compact, well-done book which contains data on about 3,000 early Texas settlers. Getting used to the complicated indexing system was somewhat troublesome, however. A map of all the Empresario Grants is included. Prior to this publication, the information was available only from the originals in the General Land Office in Austin. What a treasure-trove for those seeking Austin Colony ancestors!

The following four books are by Wynette Parks HAUN. Each is softbound, 8.5" x 11", with Full-Name index. Order from the author, 242 Argonne Drive, Durham, N.C. 27704. The prices are postpaid-bookrate. North Carolina residents add 5% Sales Tax.

North Carolina Revolutionary Army Accounts - Secretary of State Treasurer's & Comptroller's Papers Journal "A", (Public Accounts) 1775-1776. 1989. 188 pages. A Miscellaneous Index of places and items is included, in addition to the Full-Name Index. $27.50.

This book begins with an introduction by Jo White Linn, which describes the way North Carolina paid much of its Revolutionary War expense by issuing credit vouchers, which were redeemed later for cash. These vouchers covered an individual's military service time, as well as materials and supplies used by the state. After the War, Journal "A" was used to record voucher redemptions. Mrs. Haun's meticulous copy of this journal includes name and rank of the authorizing officer, payee's name and rank if included, type of service or supply, and amount paid. About 11,000 names and 3,500 miscellaneous items appear in the indexes.

Hyde County North Carolina County Court Minutes (1756-1785) Book II. 1989. 155 pages. $20.00.

Hyde County is on Albemarle Sound, the eastern coast of North Carolina. Created in 1705, it's one of the oldest counties in the state. Most of this transcription was done from microfilm, but where it was illegible, the original books were available in the North Carolina Archives for study. Included with the Court Minutes is the Orphan's Book. Original documents (299 pages) were copied, and in the Index there are references to approximately 7,500 names.

Morgan District North Carolina Superior Court of Law & Equity: Land Records 1773-1807, Book II. 1989. 154 pages. A Miscellaneous Index accompanies the Full-Name Index. $22.50

The Morgan District created by the General Assembly in 1782, included Wilkes, Burke, Lincoln, and all of North Carolina west of these counties. Over 500 pages of land records have been copied, including several plats and maps. The Full-Name Index contains over 4,000 references, with about 1,200 items in the Miscellaneous Index.

Wake County North Carolina County Court Minutes (Court of Pleas & Quarter Sessions) 1804-1807, Book VI. 1989. 148 pages. $20.00.

The seat of Wake County is Raleigh, which is also the state capital. The 431 pages of Minutes transcribed in this book detail the day-to-day operation of the county government. About 10,000 individual references appear in the Index.

All four of these books clearly result from many hours of painstaking research, and they represent only a small portion of Weynette Haun's diligent and scholarly work. A "No-frills" approach has been taken with the printing and binding. The pages have extremely narrow margins and the copy looks as if it were typewritten, but the plain appearance of the books does not obscure their erudition. Quoting from William Doub Bennett's introduction to the Morgan District book, "In the past, searching these records has been a formidable task, both tedious and time consuming. It was necessary to search each sheet of paper to avoid overlooking something of value. Now, thanks to Mrs. Haun, these records are easily accessible to all researchers."

Sumner County, Tennessee Deed Abstracts 1806-1817. Joyce Martin MURRAY. 1989. Hardbound, 6" x 9", 176 pages. Full-Name, Place-Name and Slave Indexes. $25.00 + $2.50 P&H. Texas residents add $1.75 sales tax. Order from the author, 2921 Daniels, Dallas, Texas 75205.

Mrs. Murray has done seven county deed abstractions, and this is Volume II on Sumner County, Tennessee. Volume I was taken from Deed Books 1-3, which covered the period 1793-1805. Volume II comes from Deed Books 4-7, recorded in 1806-1817. At that time, the present-day counties of Macon and Trousdale were a part of Sumner County.

This is a handsomely printed and bound book. Each deed abstraction stands out and is clearly identified and described. The print is crisp and easy to read, with all names capitalized. The three indexes are very helpful. It is obviously an excellent resource for Sumner County researchers. I have only two minor complaints: it was a little disconcerting to find that the key to all abbreviations appears only in Volume I; and if surnames had been printed in boldface, scanning a page to find one name would go faster.

The other books by Mrs. Murray are two volumes on Warren County, Kentucky, plus one each on Austin, Washington, and Red River Counties here in Texas. All can be purchased for the same price and in the same manner as the reviewed book.
