QUARTERLY: The Dallas Quarterly publishes source material and articles of general interest concerning Dallas County and Texas. CORONER'S REPORTS

by Gerri Brannan

An inquest is held to determine cause of death in cases of violent, sudden or unexplained death or if the deceased has not been recently under a physician's care. The findings of the inquest are recorded in Inquest Dockets or Coroner's Reports. These records for Dallas County are available for the years 1897 through 1969 in the Texas/Dallas History and Archives Division of the Dallas Public Library in its capacity as a depository for the Regional Historical Resource Depository and Local Records program (RHRD) of the Texas State Library.

These records variously labeled, Coroner's Minutes or Inquest Docket Books are in ledger type volumes with an index at the front and the cases following in chronological order. Each record is on a double page with space on the left page for the following information:

Name and description of the deceased; Date of death if known; Where died, or where body was found; Date of inquest; Where inquest was held; Nature of information and by whom given; Name of suspected person; Principal or accomplice; Residence of suspected person; Date of arrest; Where confined; Date of Bail Bond; Residence of person(s) on bail; Names and addresses of sureties on bail bond. [Note: Generally only a few of the spaces are completed.]

On the right hand page are entered the findings of the coroner as to cause of death with his sworn statement.

14TH DISTRICT COURT—MINUTE BOOK A ABSTRACTS

Helen Mason Lu & Adrienne B. Jamieson

Dallas County was organized in 1846 and the district court met for the first time Monday December 7th of that year. In these abstracts are to be found the names of the founders of Dallas—as jurors, defendants, and plaintiffs—involved in the usual disputes of life.

The minute books for the 14th District Court dating from its inception Monday, December 7th, 1846 until March 1939 are available in the Texas/Dallas History and Archives Division of the Dallas Public Library in its capacity as a depository for the Regional Historical Resource Depository and Local Records Program (RHRD) of the Texas State Library.

The 14th District Court was the earliest court but the Texas/Dallas Division also holds the records of the other district courts in Dallas County from their founding until 1939. The second court, the 44th District commenced July 1889 and the others were founded in the twentieth century. The extant loose case file papers for the same time period are housed here.

Some of the legal phrases used in the abstracts are as follows:

Execution:	A judicial writ empowering an officer to carry out a judgement.
Guardian ad litem :	A guardian appointed by the court to prosecute or defend for an infant in any suit to which he might be party.

That the mill now on the premises was built contrary to the consent of Latham. That the foundation, dam and plan of Latham for building the mill was changed and abandoned by Tucker without Latham's consent, that the land mentioned in the proceeding is joint property./s/ John W. Smith, foreman. The court ordered John S. Committee is to report back. B. H. Martin, Judge, 9th District Court.

Personally appearing in open court, Barton Warren Stone a regular licensed attorney, having produced satisfactory evidence of such, as well as evidence of his good and moral character, I do hereby license him to practice as an attorney in District and County Courts. B. H. Martin, Judge of the 9th District Court.

Oath endorsed by Barton Warren Stone.

(p. 271)

Thursday, 20 November 1851

The committee appointed to investigate L. L. Marshall submits the following report.

1st. In reference to the charges growing out of the answers of T. C. Hawpe and others presented to the court, Nat M. Burford, District Attorney, charging said Hawpe and others permitting an escape. It was proven that George Wright did pass counterfeit money; that the said Marshall was his attorney before the Justice of the Peace, Beard; that as an attorney he demanded a jury trial of the prisoner Wright; that the Justice summoned a jury in compliance with Marshall's demand; that Wright by verdict of the jury was required to enter into recognizance for his appearance at the next term of District Court or go to jail. That Marshall, as attorney for Wright moved for a new trial on the grounds that it was illegal for a jury to sit in on committing court, which motion was overruled. That the said Wright put up the sum of $125.00 for his appearance at the next term of court, with said Marshall and William M. Lenard, as his securities. Marshall received as his fee a horse and gave a small note to Wright for the difference of his fee and value of the horse. When leading the horse off, in answer to a statement made by Chenault that the conviction was illegal and Wright would never come back, Marshall replied "no, he will not". At the time of the demand for a jury, Hawpe as acting sheriff refused to summon a jury telling Marshall it would be illegal. Marshall agreed, but said it was none of Hawpe's business.

(p. 272)

2nd. In reference to charge of Swindling it was proven that during the Fall Session of the present year, Marshall had a certain watch which he called a gold watch and which the witnesses suppose to be a gold watch. Marshall said that he bought the watch from one Wisdom and paid a number of coins for it (the number not being known, but supposed to be three); that he sold the watch to John Busby for a horse. He told Busby and others that he had received the watch together with a daguerreotype containing a likeness of his father in the state of Mississippi as a present, by the hands of one Nettles and that his father had paid $125.00 [for the watch.] To others he made the same claim but said that he had received it by mail. That he said Busby had laughed at him and attempted to ridicule him about his bad trading and he made up the stories to trick Busby. He later told Busby that he had bought the watch from Wisdom; that at that time Busby was a student of law to Marshall.

3rd. They have not had time to investigate the charges. Mr. Marshall acknowledged that he killed the cow but denied all malice. We are of the opinion that the conduct of Mr. Marshall has been far below the standard of professional dignity and sincerity that should mark a member of the legal profession. The facts show such a want of moral rectitude and upright honorable deportment as makes him an unfit associate.

(p. 273)

[dated] 20 November 1851. James Turney, John B. Cravens, John H. Reagan, committee.

Some Families of REVOLUTIONARY WAR PATRIOTS from VIRGINIA, MARYLAND, PENNSYLVANIA, SOUTH CAROLINA and KENTUCKY - Duncan, Miller, Coulter, Fleming, Pomeroy, Junkin, Harned, Galloway, Hartley, Weatherholt, Crawford, Mason, Pate, Moorman, Adams, Lewis, Johnston, Clark, Walker, Martin, Reynolds, Head, Long, Seaton, Kenner, Thompson, Greenwell, Bonum, Philpot, Eskridge, Spence, Youell, Sturman, Howson, Lee, Constable, and Rodham, written and compiled by Willa Mac (Duncan) Coulter, (1993). Hardback, 8½" x 11", xxxiii + 860 pages, illustrated, full-name index. $48.00 postpaid. Order from Willa Mac Coulter, 2801 Scissortail Lane, Enid, Oklahoma 73703.

Challenged by her mother's admonition that she "would never get the lines straight...", Mrs. Coulter compiled an impressive collection of material. The main body of the book chronicles fifteen of the author's Revolutionary War forebears and one of her husband's that have been approved by the Daughters of the American Revolution. If known, the patriot's antecedents are identified and the line is carried down to the present generation. One chapter treats Seventeenth Century Pioneers and appendixes include lineage charts and accounts of several other families.

References and sources are quoted in each chapter, along with historical background. The editor points out cases in which there are several men by the same name, and indicates areas needing further research.

This book, like many currently being published, acknowledges family members who provided assistance with computers, word processing and laser printers in order to create a "camera-ready" book from a family genealogist's decades of research and paper files.

WELSH FAMILY HISTORY: A GUIDE TO RESEARCH, edited by John Rowlands and Others (1993), published by the Association of Family History Societies of Wales in conjunction with the Federation of Family History Societies (1993). Softback, 5¾" x 8¼", xi + 316 pages, illustrations, maps, bibliography, index. $22.75 postpaid. Order from ISBGFH, P. O. Box 3115, Salt Lake City, UT 84110-3115.

If the words Cofrestrï Plwyf Cymru and Anniddig heb drig, heb dras look like anything more than typing errors to you, then no doubt, you are already immersed in tracing your Welsh ancestry. For the rest of us, the words translate to "Parish Registers of Wales" and "Unhappy is the one without land, without lineage."

Dallas Genealogical Society members, Trevor and June Rees-Jones, are tracing his Welsh father's line and have donated this book to be placed in the genealogy section of Dallas' J. Erik Jonsson Central Library, to help others. Two years ago they attended the Family History in Wales course at Aberystwyth and sent brochures describing this year's offerings: a week-long course for the beginner or for those in the early stages of tracing their ancestors, 31 July-7 August and the week-long residential course for those wishing to know more about tracing their Welsh ancestry, August 13-20. The brochures are at the library, for those needing details, and the Rees-Joneses offer to pass on tips about the courses and on visiting Wales.

Twenty separate authors contributed to 22 chapters on what records are available, where they are located, surnames, place names, basic Welsh, nonconformity (those separated from the established church), migration and emigration, and more. The introduction states that this book is not a step by step guide for complete beginners. As in any research, as much as possible should have been done at home in pinpointing the overseas ancestor's geographic locale and even his parish, before attempting the Welsh research.

Wales' patronymic naming system in which children were identified in relation to their father continued into fairly recent times. This, along with the small pool of Welsh surnames, adds hurdles to family research.

LOGAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY DEED ABSTRACTS, 1813-1819, by Joyce Martin Murray (1994). Paperback, 8½" x 11", v + 198 pages. Three indexes: full name; places & slaves (first-name only). $30.00 plus $2.48 sales tax for Texas residents + $3.00 p & h. Order from Joyce Martin Murray, 2921 Daniel, Dallas, Texas 75205.

This is the latest in Mrs. Murray's award-winning series of deed abstract books. To date, she has published the earliest records of Warren, Logan, Sumner, and White counties in Tennessee and Texas counties of Red River, Washington and Austin, including the Republic of Texas era.

When Logan County was created in 1792 from a part of Lincoln County it covered a very large portion of Southwestern Kentucky. Later Christian, Warren, Muhlenberg, Livingston, Henderson, Allen (later changed to Simpson), and Todd County were formed from this original area. Many settlers came into this area because of the granting by Virginia of lands in the District set apart for Officers and Soldiers of the Virginia Continental Line of the American Revolution.

Novice researchers may not consider deed books relevant if an ancestor did not own land. Rather, all researchers should be aware that powers of attorney, wills, slave sales, places of previous residence and family relationships may be found in the deed records.

The book's index to places permitted me to find three entries for residents of a Virginia county I research and whose records from 1761 to 1869 were lost in a courthouse fire: An 1814 indenture named William Duvall, acting trustee of Samuel Duvall of Buckingham Co., Va. Others named in the entry were William Breathitt and wife Elizabeth, John Breathitt, Lucy C. Dunston (?) and Samuel Shepherd Duvall.

An 1818 indenture names Stephen Fuqua of Buckingham County, Va.. Also mentioned were Abell Morgan, J. H. Furman, P. Edwards, John Breathitt and C. Breathitt. It mentions that the grave of Abraham Morgan is on the property. An 1819 indenture names ___ Fuquar of Buckingham Co. and the transaction also mentions William Chastain and wife Magdelon and Barksdale Spencer.

If Volume I of Logan County Deeds, 1792-1813, ($30.00 plus $2.48 sales tax for Texas residents) is ordered at the same time as Volume II, (subject of this review), the postage and handling for both is $3.50.
