PRESIDENT'S REPORT 1993-94

by J. Bruce Moseley

The 1993-94 DGS year began in August of last year with a retreat session for the Board of Directors to set goals and plan for their implementation. I am pleased to report substantial accomplishment or progress for all major objectives.

At our September Society meeting, members were treated to an exciting presentation on the new Capital Expansion Project. They learned that when completed, it would result in doubling the shelving, microform equipment, and patron work space in the Genealogy Section of the Dallas Public Library.

In November, our Fall Symposium and Beginner's Workshop were held for the first time in the Dallas Convention Center. The unlimited space and flexible room arrangements contributed greatly to a very successful event. Forty lectures were offered covering a broad range of beginner, intermediate, and advanced topics. The total attendance of 724 exceeded all previous events sponsored by DGS.

The Spring Seminar was also held in the Dallas Convention Center. It featured Lloyd DeWitt Bockstruck, who covered new topics which were presented for the first time anywhere. We instituted a policy of discounted admission for DGS members to our educational events. At the Spring Seminar, winners in the Writing Awards Competition were announced. Judges in this event were the book editors of the Houston Forum, the Ft. Worth Genealogical Society, and the Oklahoma Genealogical Society.

Three outstanding programs were arranged for the Summer Lecture Series. Arlene Eakle spoke on land and tax records, Gale Bamman's topic was research in Tennessee, and Larry Jensen covered German research.

Programs for the monthly Society meetings were excellent, culminating in a highly entertaining dissertation on early Dallas by Rose-Mary Rumbley. This pattern of outstanding educational opportunity extended to the Computer Interest Group, which began a series of sessions separate from the Society meetings to address the CIG's special needs.

Two much appreciated tours were conducted to the Family History Center in Salt Lake City. The first was in November and the second in May. Participants were assisted by Society members with extensive experience at the FHC, and Lloyd Bockstruck was available for consultation with the researchers on the second trip.

Our serial publications continued to be exceptional. Six issues of a twenty-four page DGS NEWSLETTER and four editions of a sixty-four page The Dallas Quarterly were distributed to the membership. Other publication activity included the revision of DallaSearch, production of two cemetery books on microfiche, two more volumes of Texas Methodist newspaper abstracts, and a microfilm compilation of Family Tree columns from the Dallas Morning News.

Total Society membership reached 945 during the year, an all-time high. The annual gift to the Genealogy Section of the Library was $10,000 and the Society donated $12,500 to the Capital Expansion Project. CEP raised about $40,000 up to May, at which time a most welcome gift of $30,000 was received from the General Levi Casey DAR Chapter. DGS is most appreciative for all gifts—money, books, and time—that it received during the year.

The Society's bylaws were amended to add a Vice President for Education and a Director of Volunteer Coordination. By combining some of the previous positions, the number on the Board of Directors was reduced from seventeen to sixteen. In addition, the membership year was changed from matching the calendar to beginning whenever application is made, and renewing in the anniversary month of each succeeding year. These changes came out of the Board of Directors retreat session, and are examples of goals which were set and achieved.

A fitting climax to this remarkable year occurred at the National Genealogical Society annual conference held in Houston this June. On that occasion it was my distinct honor and privilege to accept, on behalf of all DGS members over the 40 years of our existence, the NGS Award for Achievement by an Organization. This tribute is paid annually to a genealogical society for exceptional contributions over a period of five or more years which have resulted in significantly aiding and furthering an interest in genealogy. The award was based on the following DGS accomplishments:

- GROWTH: Membership doubled over the last ten years.
- EDUCATION: Spring Seminar, Fall Symposium, Summer Lecture Series, Beginner's Workshop, and Monthly Meeting programs provide outstanding learning opportunities.
- PERIODICALS: DGS NEWSLETTER and The Dallas Quarterly are exceptional.
- PUBLICATIONS: Twelve volumes on Dallas County and Texas published in the last five years.
- LIBRARY SUPPORT: $100,000 donated to Genealogy Section-DPL over the last five years. A volunteer program assists the Library staff.
- ACTIVITIES: Fellowship opportunities, Computer Interest Group, study trips, Writing Awards, sale of research materials, etc., assist and encourage members in their genealogical and family history pursuits.

We are very appreciative of this recognition from a source as distinguished as NGS. A plaque commemorating the award now hangs in the Genealogy Section of the Library.

In closing, I wish to extend my personal thanks and gratitude to the Board of Directors and all members of the Society for their superb support throughout this year of achievement. It has been a most rewarding experience to serve as your president and I thank you for that opportunity.

14TH DISTRICT COURT—MINUTE BOOK A ABSTRACTS

Helen Mason Lu & Adrienne B. Jamieson

Dallas County was organized in 1846 and the district court met for the first time Monday December 7th of that year. In these abstracts are to be found the names of the founders of Dallas—as jurors, defendants, and plaintiffs—involved in the usual disputes of life.

The minute books for the 14th District Court dating from its inception Monday, December 7th, 1846 until March 1939 are available in the Texas/Dallas History and Archives Division of the Dallas Public Library in its capacity as a depository for the Regional Historical Resource Depository and Local Records Program (RHRD) of the Texas State Library.

The 14th District Court was the earliest court but the Texas/Dallas Division also holds the records of the other district courts in Dallas County from their founding until 1939. The second court, the 44th District commenced July 1889 and the others were founded in the twentieth century. The extant loose case file papers for the same time period are housed here.

Some of the legal phrases used in the abstracts are as follows:

- |                        |  |
|------------------------|--|
| Scire facias :  | A judicial writ, requiring person against which it is brought to show why record should not be annulled. Most common application of this writ is to revive a judgement after a lapse of time or change of parties. |
| Trespass to try title: | The name of an action for recovery of possession of real property with damages for any trespass committed upon the same by a defendant.  |

DOWN IN FROGTOWN

An Interview with John O. and Roxie Reno
by Linda Shaddock Rogers

I have to admit to feeling some pride when members of my family tell me that I remind them of my father. Before I had ever heard the term genealogy, my father was instilling a sense of family and history in me and my brothers. He was a man of many interests, one of which was tape recording oral interviews. I treasure these recordings now because I can listen to the voices of those loved-ones who left us long ago.

In 1967, my father, Jack W. Shaddock, conducted an interview with my maternal grandparents. Their names were John O. and Roxie J. Reno. His main topic was Dallas around 1910.

John Reno was born in Dallas on 3 Aug 1888 to Joseph Reno and Josephine Pecore. His parents had married in Dallas on 13 Sep 1880 after migrating with both their families from Kankakee, Illinois in 1879. These French-Canadian families were typical of the working class in Dallas around the turn of the century. Joseph's father, Peter, worked as a street car driver for the Dallas Belt Street Railway Company. Joseph was a carpenter. Both families grew up in the area of downtown that is now close to the Fairmont Hotel and the West End Historic District. John Reno and Roxie Peacock were married in Dallas on 9 Sep 1907 and lived in Dallas and Oak Cliff for the remainder of their lives.

The following interview brings a little flavor of growing up around what we now know as downtown Dallas. It has been edited to include pertinent sections only.

Jack: What I want you to do is tell me about Dallas back around 1910. Where were you living?

John: We were living on Caroline. [one block east of McKinney and Field today]

Jack: Where was that?

John: Down in Frogtown.

Jack: That tells me a whole lot. Where was Frogtown?

John: Frogtown is down around McKinney Avenue...it used to be Orange Street (they call it Field Street now). Field crosses McKinney. There was no Field. Didn't Orange Street stop there at McKinney and that was where we called Frogtown.

Jack: Where was it from the Waterworks?

John: From the Waterworks? Well, when we went down to the Waterworks, we went right down Alamo Street across the railroad track there and kept on going until we come to the reservoir. Right there now is that stadium, Cobb Stadium. That was the old reservoir where we used to get water. When we first began to get city water was that old standpipe right on top of that hill there right by that park—what's the name of that park—Riverschon Park.

That there was a standpipe. We used to go up there—that was a pastime. We used to pick violets around there.

Jack: Did you go swimming?

John: Oh, we went swimming ...when us boys went swimming we went in the old Rock Island Slough. When the Rock Island came through here they dug a ditch along there for their railroad and, when they filled up, they made a big slough, you see, and us kids would go swimming down there.

Jack: Where was that?

John: Just west of Rock Island Railroad down there just by the old Light Building—Dallas Power and Light. Do you know where Dallas Power and Light is at the end of Griffin Street? Right down west of there was where they had that old Rock Island slough. A little further northwest. The old Trinity River made a bend there. We used to go swimming in there. We called it Blue Hole when the Trinity River run down there before they changed the channel.

Jack: Do you remember horse-drawn fire engines?

John: Well, certainly. I used to watch that old tag come down McKinney Avenue with them horses—3 horses. Used to tie that little old steam engine down. It would hump all over the place there.

Jack: You watched them when they would operate the steam engine for the pumper to pump water? How did it work?

John: Well, they left the fire station up there they would just throw a can of gasoline, I mean, coal oil and start a fire. By the time they got to where they was wanting to go, they had steam up to start a pump just like any steam engine.

Jack: When did you go to work? How old were you?

John: 13 years old. At the City Planing Mill.

Jack: Where was it?

[Note: Figure 1, Sanborn Fire Insurance Map, Dallas, 1905, on microfilm in the Texas/Dallas History Division, 7th floor, J. Erik Jonnson Central Library. Cumberland Hill Public School is in upper left. Across Caruth Street is the Fairmont Hotel today. Cochran Street on the left of the page now runs parallel with Woodall Rodgers Freeway. The large building in the lower left was W. Illingworth Planing Mill (later City Planing Mill). This area was residential in 1905. Notice the shallow creek that is no longer there.

Jack: That would be down about where El Chico [El Fenix] Restaurant is now?

John: I don't know nothing about that. Do you know where that...is that old Stier's Laundry still there? Corner of Caruth.

Jack: Is that Cumberland Hill School right there on Akard?

John: Akard and Caruth and Ellings.

Roxie: I went to that school, too.

Jack: How old was the school when you went there?

John: Oh, shoot, I don't know how old it was. I remember old Professor Brooks was a professor.

Roxie: I remember going to that school. Go by and get Hattie and we'd all go and walk together up there when we was kids.

John: I remember you was talking about 1910.

Jack: Yeah, about that time. You remember before 1910?

John: Well, that's all before 1910. What we was talking about.

Jack: What was downtown like?

John: They had the biggest part of the pavement was bois-de-arc blocks and horse and buggies, horse and wagons. Just little ole one story buildings.

Roxie: They had one picture show, didn't they?

John: There wasn't one picture show then. They didn't even know what a movin' picture was—I mean, movin' camera was.

Jack: They have an opera house?

John: Yeah, Dallas Opera House. I used to go in there lots of times.

Roxie: Where did the old cycle park go to?

John: That old cycle park was down there by the fair grounds. Well, it played out. I used to go to that old Dallas Opera House [Figure 2]. In 1910 Buell Planing Mill [Figure 3] burnt out and they didn't have enough water to fight the fire in Dallas. Street car company run one of them big ole cars that had a regular tank on it. They sprinkled the streets with that thing to still the dust.

Jack: Downtown?

John: No, down around the suburbs, but there wasn't suburbs. Dallas wasn't big enough to have suburbs. But, anyhow, they run one of them cars up there on Live Oak. Right just before they got to the tracks, they stopped it right at the tracks. The fire hemmed it in and burnt the car up. I was there...I seen that.

Texas/Dallas History Archives Division

Jack: Did they have electric trams then?

John: Yeah.

Jack: Do you remember horse-drawn?

John: Yeah.

Jack: Did you tell me about soapin' the mule tracks over on McKinney?

John: Soapin' them? Well, we used soap on the streetcar tracks—it didn't make no difference about mules because they could pull whether you soaped that track or not; it was the streetcar that we soaped the track for.

Jack: What was the first car you had?

John: That was 1916—1916 Ford, T Model.

Jack: How did you get it?

John: Well, I bought it.

Jack: How much were you making then?

John: I was making about $1 six bit a day. I worked at Dallas Screen Company. It was on Live Oak. No, it was down on Bryan Street right west of Ervay. Down there along the time the Dallas Dispatch was there.

Jack: Well, what buildings were in Dallas when you were a little boy? How many buildings?

John: I don't know how many but we used to get on up there in that tower in the courthouse and see all over Dallas.

Roxie: The courthouse was the tallest building in Dallas.

John: We'd get up there...us kids used to get up there and that old clock would strike. Maybe we were up there at 2:00, and it would strike two and we would pick up that hammer and make it strike three and then run. We couldn't have got out if they would have wanted to catch us. That's all the sense us kids had anyhow.

But we did go to every fire in town. We'd listen for the alarm and it strikes numbers on the firehouse and we would go to every one of them. We knew right where they were. We'd go to them fires and help the people save their furniture. We went to one fire and a woman had lots of nice dishes in one of these old-time safes. It was a new safe then; and we just dumped all her good dishes out on the floor and hauled the safe. The safe wasn't worth a darn, and we didn't save any furniture.

TEXAS CONFEDERATE PENSIONS

The Genealogy Section of the Dallas Public Library has acquired the first 86 rolls of microfilm of Texas CSA Approved Pension Applications which comprises Applications #1 through #11831. There are 700 rolls in the entire set which also includes the rejected pensions; at present the first 86 rolls are available and another 117 rolls are on order; the remaining rolls will be ordered as the budget allows. Editorial Note: Donations would help to purchase this important Texas resource.

The original records are at the Texas State Library, Austin and were filmed in 1974 by the Genealogical Society, Salt Lake City, Utah. The applications are filmed in numerical order and are indexed in:

The questions asked on the soldier's or sailor's application are listed below. Immediately following is a listing of the questions asked on the widow's application. ## BOOK REVIEWS

By J. Bruce Moseley

The Dallas Genealogical Society is pleased to present the following review of the winning entry in the Book on Genealogy or Family History category in the 1994 Writing Awards Competition. We congratulate the author, and commend her work as a model which other writers might wish to emulate.

Reviews of other entries in this year's Competition will appear in subsequent issues of The Dallas Quarterly.

THE TANGNEY & DAY FAMILIES OF ADAMS COUNTY, WISCONSIN.

1993. Linda Berg Stafford.
Hardback, 7" x 10", 692 pages. Full name indexed. $40.00 postpaid.
Order from the author, P.O. Box 5261, Bloomington, Ind. 47407.

The TANGNEY and DAY families were early settlers in Adams County, located in central Wisconsin. Patrick J. Tangney, the author's second great grandfather, arrived in 1855. His descendants covered in this work include 230 families spanning six generations. The ancestors and descendants of Rev. John Day (another second great grandfather of the author) of Easton township in Adams County cover 302 families in eleven generations. Four other collateral lines are also detailed. They are: AULT, CONNOR, LOREE, and RICHARDSON.

What a magnificent book this is! The organization of the material, including documentation, is superb. Use of the Register numbering system makes it easy to track relationships, and every individual is listed in a descendant chart. I found Mrs. Stafford's writing to be lucid as well as fascinating, and every one of the 275 photographs is sharp and discernable. The quality of the printing and binding is excellent. When that many superlatives are sustained for almost seven hundred pages, it's easy to see why the Writing Award Competition judges chose THE TANGNEY & DAY FAMILIES as the winner in the category of books on genealogy or family history. I heartily concur.

The following books were given to the Society for review in The Dallas Quarterly and will now be donated to the Genealogy Section of the Dallas Public Library.

POGUE/POLLOCK/POLK GENEALOGY AS MIRRORED IN HISTORY, FROM SCOTLAND TO NORTHERN IRELAND/ULSTER, OHIO, AND WESTWARD. 1990. Lloyd Welch Pogue. Hardback, 6" x 9", 800 pages. Name and topic indexed. $35.00 postpaid. Order from the author, 5204 Kenwood Avenue, Chevy Chase, Md. 20815.

Mr. Pogue has traced the history of his Clan to Fulbert, who lived in Renfrewshire, Scotland, in the twelfth century. A lineage chart details the line from Fulbert to John Pogue/Pollock, who came to America in 1789 from County Down, Northern Ireland. This volume contains the full genealogy of eight generations of John's descendants, as well as other related lines. President James Knox Polk shares a common ancestor with John Pogue.

Here is another outstanding example of a family history. It has extensive citations, over 200 photos, maps, charts, appendices, a large bibliography, and a 50-page person/subject index. Among the several awards it has received is the 1991 NGS Award for Excellence: Genealogy and Family History. If you have any POGUE, POLLOCK, or POLK connections, by all means check out this publication.

OUR BATES GENEALOGY. 1993. Mary Emma and Robert Eugene Burt. Hardback, 6" x 9", 416 pages. Full name indexed. $50.00 postpaid. Order from the authors, 9708 NW 75th Street, Kansas City, Mo. 64152.

This is a history of the Clement BATES family, with a chapter on the Robert Granville RAPP family. Clement was born in England and immigrated to Massachusetts in 1635. He is ten generations removed from Mrs. Burt, who is his eighth great granddaughter. Another of Clement's descendants is Katherine L. Bates who wrote the words to "America The Beautiful". It wasn't clear to me what the connection is with Robert Rapp.

All told, there are 19 (count 'em!) generations covered in this book, which I consider a remarkable feat. Listed are over 5000 descendants, 1678 marriages, 2460 surnames, and 983 places. It uses the Register numbering system and in addition has an extensive array of pedigree charts. The documentation notes and references are abundant, but appear all together in one continuous set of pages. Sections are also set aside for 119 photos, 75 pages of documents, and 7 pages of bibliography, as well as the aforementioned charts. Some benefits are to be derived from such a format, but cross referencing is certainly more difficult. All in all, Mr. & Mrs. Burt have done a laudable job, and those with an interest in the BATES surname are in their debt.

BANNING BRANCHES. 1994. Leroy F. Banning. Paperback, 5" x 8", 414 pages. Full name indexed. $30.00. Order from Heritage Books, 1540-E Pointer Ridge Place, Suite 300, Bowie, Md. 20716.

The starting point for this book was P. W. Banning's "Banning Genealogy" of 1908. As a result of 25 years' research, Leroy Banning has added many lines, corrected errors, and extended lines. Sixteen family branches are covered in as many chapters, while "Other Bannings" also have a section. The information spans the late 1600's up to the present.

Although I would expect this to be the definitive work on BANNING for some time to come, I was disconcerted by the numbering system. Each of the sixteen branches is identified by a letter from A through O, with numbers starting over in each branch. Also, the print is uncomfortably small for us bifocal types. There are over 7400 names in the index, which gives branch letter and number, rather than the page where located. Also included are maiden name for women, year of birth, and if a person died before 18. This additional information is helpful when looking for a common name, such as Mary Banning--there are 149 of them! Do you have Banning blood? If so, here's a potential source of help with your research.

PERSONAL NAME INDEX TO THE AUGUSTA CHRONICLE (AUGUSTA, GEORGIA), VOL. IV (1821-1830) compiled by Alice O. Walker, Local History Librarian for the Augusta-Richmond Public Library. The book was published by the Augusta-Richmond Public Library in 1993. Hardbound, 9" x 6", 880 pages, $25.00 plus $2.50 postage and handling. Orders may be placed with the Augusta-Richmond County Public Library, 902 Green Street, Augusta, GA 30901.

An important source for genealogical research that is often overlooked, under-used or ignored are newspapers. One reason for this is the lack of abstracts or indexes. When a newspaper indexing project is completed and published, it is a much-welcomed addition to the genealogical community—especially an index as comprehensive as this one.

Alice O. Walker, Local History Librarian for the Augusta-Richmond County Public Library, has compiled the fourth in a series of indexes of the Augusta Chronicle newspaper. Over 49,000 entries have been made for the 1821—1830 period covered in this project. The goal of this work was to extract names of individuals who lived in Georgia and South Carolina in the years mentioned above. Records from 34 Georgia counties and eight districts of South Carolina have been encompassed in these pages. Included are names of spouses of individuals if they were listed in the newspaper articles.

An effort was made to assist black genealogists by noting the names of slaves and the surnames of their owners and by denoting free blacks when they were listed. The compiler extracted names from every event that placed an individual in a particular place at a particular time.

Articles concerning foreign or national events have been omitted as well as the 1821 and 1827 Georgia Land Lotteries. The Introduction of this book gives the names of the printed materials containing those lists.

The Introduction carefully lists the types of events from which names were extracted and gives the standards used for reporting dates. Naming conventions and symbols used in the book are also covered in the Introduction.

Microfilm copies of the newspapers are available on interlibrary loan from the August-Richmond County Public Library or the library staff will copy up to five items for any one researcher at $.25 per copy plus SASE. Requests should be made to the Local History Librarian and should include a list of the articles requested. Because of staffing limitations, this offer can be made only once per researcher.

Copies of Vol. I (1786—1799), Vol. II (1800—1810), and Vol. III (1811—1820) are still available. They sell for $27.50 each including postage and handling.

THE DEAN FAMILY. The Descendants of Drury Dean, Sr. Excerpted from : KEEPING UP WITH THE SMITHS. . . by Mary Emily Smith Witt. 2nd Edition, Revised. Dallas, 1993. Softbound, 117 pages, including 10 page index, 20 old photos and references. $26.00 plus $4.00 postage/handling. Companion volume: THE CONE FAMILY. The Descendants of "Acey" Cone. Excerpted from: KEEPING UP WITH THE SMITHS. . .2nd Edition, Revised. Dallas, 1993. 56 pages with sources. $12.00 unbound, 3-hole punched + $3.00 postage, $16.00 soft-cover + $4.00 postage. Available from MEW Publishing, P. O. Box 8352, Dallas, Texas 75205.

If you are a descendant of this Dean family, you will probably rejoice that this research has been published. Much of the information is documented from correspondence with other family members; however, census records, cemetery, vital records, genealogical periodicals, church records, county histories, etc. have been cited. Citations could have been stronger, but what is furnished will be of interest to others researching these lines.
