Dallas Genealogical Society
Our 60th Year

Update Regarding our General Meeting tomorrow, November 7

The DGS Board wants to alert our meeting attendees to an all-day art event being held at the Central Library on Saturday that could impact parking in the Library's underground parking garage. The Library is expecting big crowds throughout the day, so you may want to come to the Library soon after it opens at 10 am. Even though our hospitality time doesn't officially begin until 10:30, you are welcome to come to the East/West Rooms earlier than that. We will get the coffee perking as soon as we can.

If you find the Library parking garage full, there is plenty of street parking nearby. Be sure to have some dollar bills/change with you.

Alan Lowe, Director of the George W. Bush Presidential Library and Museum, has been described as "a charming raconteur". Don't miss his program The Presidential Libraries and the George W. Bush Presidential Center. Program details.
