In the afternoon participants were asked to either:

1. Create an action plan to address a key issue related to members; or
2. Imagine a new genealogy club and design the club by describing aspects of the club and how it would operate.

Four tables created action plans and three designed a new club.

Following the table discussions, one person from each table shared their table’s key discussion points. This paper is an outline of the key points in the four action plans presented.
